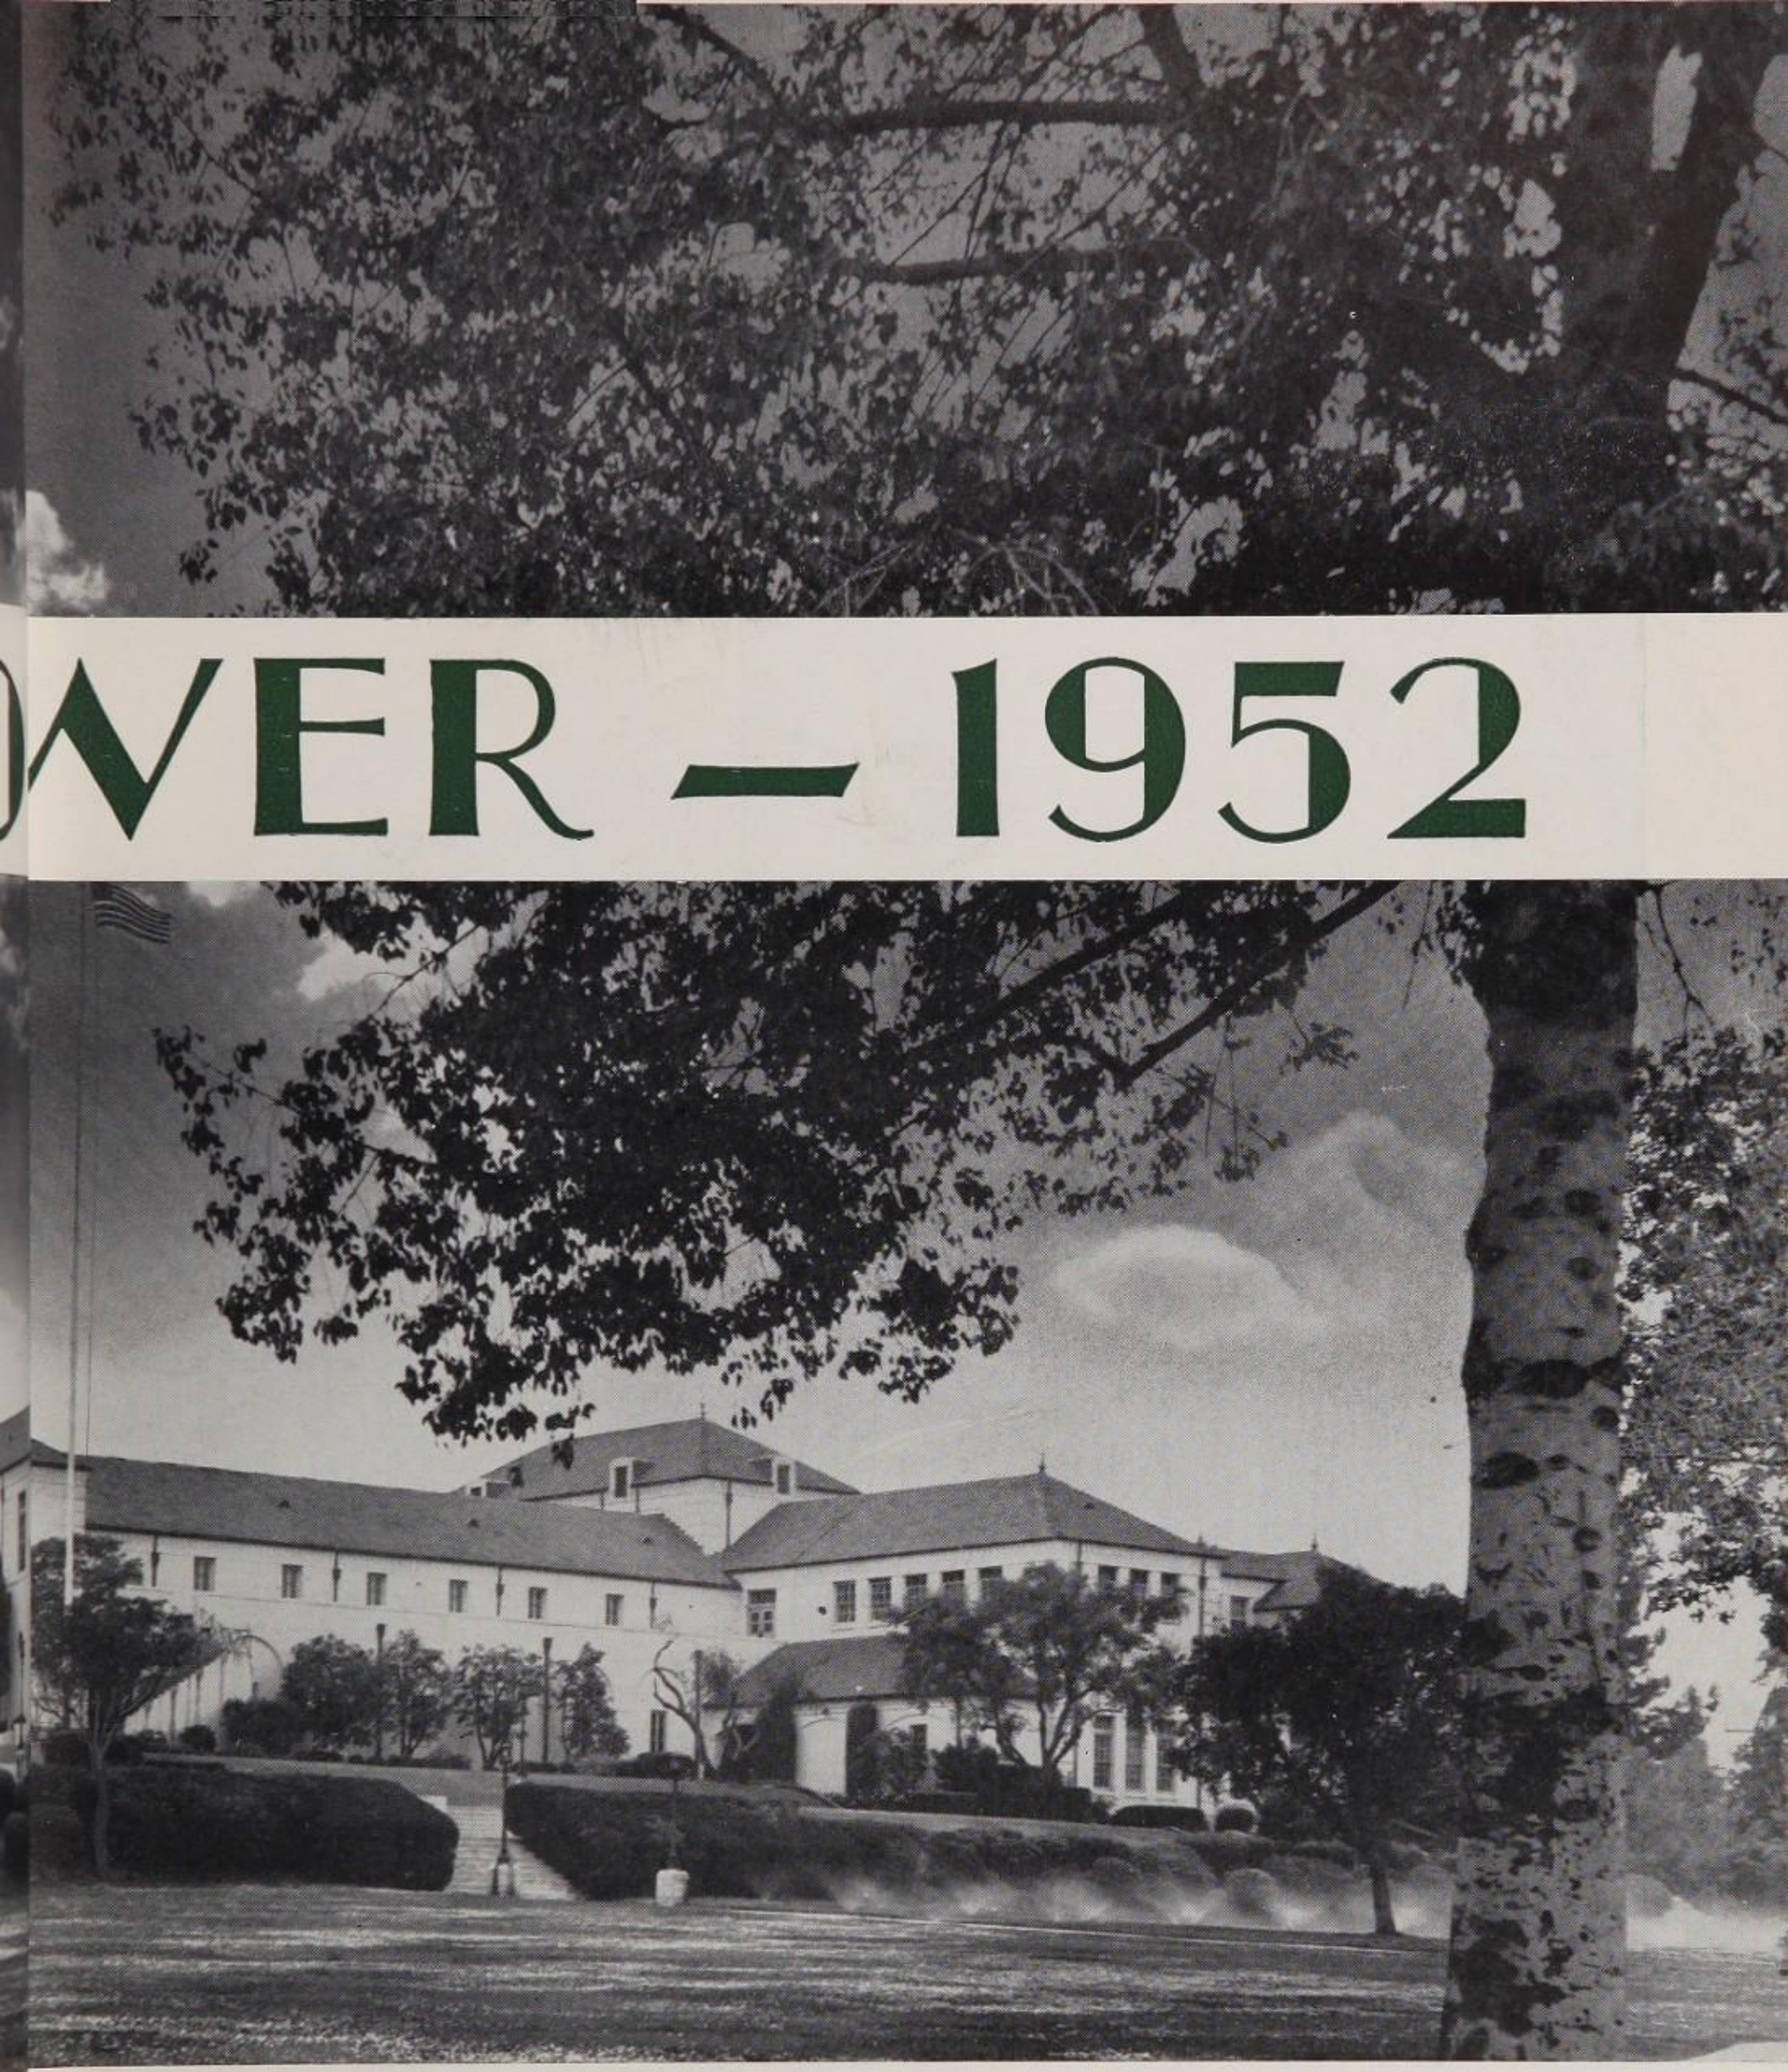
BEVERLY HILLS HIGH SCHOOL



OWER — 1952

BEVERLY HILLS, CALIFORNIA

THEME

Living in a time of war, tension, and great unrest has taken something from many of the American people. It has taken away part of the spirit of the American way of life—the ability to laugh at one another. Some people have almost lost this wonderful gift, and so we at Beverly Hills High School are trying to recapture it.

Will Rogers became famous for his way of making fun of the American people and their idiosyncrasies and was the nation's idol—but is there anyone like him now? Al Capp's "Lil Abner" comic strip was created because Capp reveled in the freedom of laughing at American customs and habits, but he can no longer make fun of these characteristics without occasional criticism.

In their talent show the seniors laughed at Beverly and other people's opinions of our school. You, the student body, laughed with them and with your laughter realized what a fine school Beverly is and what great advantages we have. With that laughter came the realization that it is more fun to be average and really enjoy life than to think ourselves superior because of our advantages.

With the senior show in mind the WATCHTOWER staff of 1952 decided to follow in the faculty's footsteps and invade Dogpatch. We wanted to see how Mammy and Pappy Yokum, Lil Abner, Daisy Mae, and all the rest of the Dogpatch populace depict Beverly High and our activities.

Throughout the book, by means of two "Beverly Hillbillies," the WATCHTOWER art staff has endeavored to recreate its impression of Beverly through the eyes of the Yokums and the Scraggs.

Daisy Mae and Lil Abner will be a part of the American way of life for many years to come, and the WATCHTOWER staff hopes that this annual will long be a part of your life and will bring back fond memories of the year 1951-1952 at Beverly High.

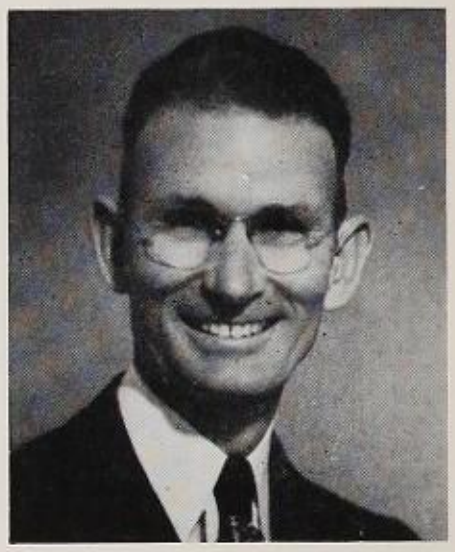
BOARD OF EDUCATION



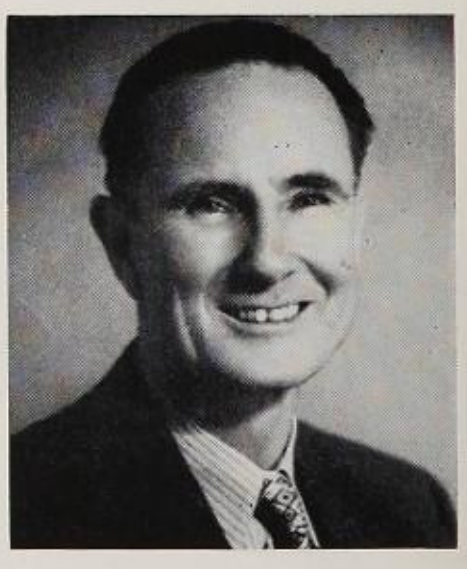
Mr. R. G. Mitchell

The head big chiefs of the Dogpatch town in Normandy are the five diligent members of the Beverly Hills Board of Education. Working with these people is Mr. R. G. Mitchell, the superintendent of schools in Beverly Hills. Bearing the title of deputy superintendent is Dr. E. J. Hummel, while heading the Adult Education is Mr. Arnold Bowhay. The superintendent of schools, along with principals of the various Beverly Hills schools, is on hand to give recommendations to the Board.

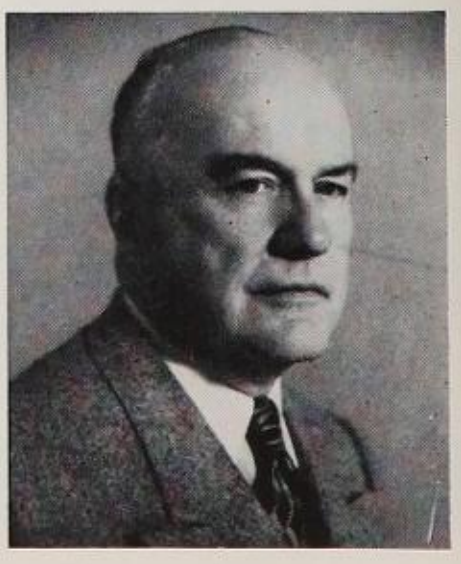
The continuous duty of the Board consists of improving the Beverly Hills High School buildings and grounds. It also takes care of all the school supplies and furnishes its equipment. The Board in itself is comprised of five parents and citizens who work unselfishly and are not paid for the wonderful work and great amount of time that they contribute to the school. They meet every two weeks to discuss the immediate problems and needs of all the Beverly Hills District schools. They consistently attend all the school functions, a fact which is proof of their eagerness to promote better interest in all programs and other activities.

During the past two semesters the Board has not failed in its service to Normandy. It bought for the A Cappella Choir beautiful blue robes of excellent material which will last for many years. It also bought the stylish curtains for the Girls' League Friendship Room. The industrious parents on the Board are Mr. Horace Blackman, Jr., president; Mrs. Orville Borden; Mr. Joseph A. Long; Mr. Howard W. Reynolds; and Mrs. Byron Thalheimer.

Working to improve Normandy, these citizens are doing a wonderful job, not only by promising a better school system, but by giving unsparingly of their time and efforts to build a better generation for tomorrow.



Dr. E. J. Hummel



Mr. A. A. Bowhay

The Administration and Faculty join me in expressing congratulations to the Class of 1952. You have made many contributions to Beverly in your four years and will join with honor the thousands of Beverly alumni who are representing us so capably in universities and colleges and in business and professional life.

At the outset of your senior year, we adopted as our guiding principles two words: REDEDICATION and RE-EVALUATION. Rededication to the American way of life and love of Country; Re-evaluation of the basic principles of moral character and ethical standards. School projects and individual accomplishments indicate we have successfully initiated this program. May I suggest that these two words remain a part of your living in the new environments that await you upon graduation. Their adherence, with the added ingredient of good scholarship, will lead to full and satisfying post-high school experiences.

Good fortune and smooth sailing in your new experience. Your potential is high. May your achievement be equal to that potential.

SPONSORS AND COUNSELORS

• Backing up the classes and their officers in projects, class organizations, and other activities were Sponsors Mrs. Eleanor Welch, senior; Mr. Charles "Doc" Herbst, junior; Mr. Salvatore Occhipinti, sophomore; and Mr. Gale Stockdale, freshman. The incoming class began its year with calmness and poise as a result of the expert advice. The sophomores and juniors followed suit in doing their usual fine work. The seniors came through such activities as Senior Day amidst the up and ready action of Mrs. Welch and "Doc" Herbst in their continual junior and senior competition.

• Urging on the Beverly Hills critters from the sidelines were the eager Dogpatch sponsors and counselors, who sought to develop better and more independent students than those of the past. Yelling hard for the Norman wimmin and fellers were Counselors Mr. Ed Elliott, senior; Miss Edith Knoles, junior; Miss Helen-Louise Aldrich, sophomore; and Mr. James Knauer, freshman. Any assistance needed for solving the school problems of an individual or for aid in finding a suitable college, business, or other future vocation or profession was given more than willingly. Classes suitable to the students' ambitions were carefully chosen with the advice of these rooters.

The counselors were extremely helpful in guiding the students' plans for their future years of schooling.

ounseling the seniors and juniors for their future were Mr. Ed Elliott and Miss dith Knoles, respectively.

Frosh and sophs were aided by the counseling of Mr. James Knauer and Miss Helen-Louise Aldrich.

BOTTOM ROW: Mrs. Richard Hall, Mrs. Monte Moses, Mrs. Charles Chamberlain, Mrs. Vernon Lohr. TOP ROW: Mrs. Louis Kelton, Mrs. Romaine Pauley, Mrs. John Lawrence, Mrs. Lloyd Barton.

P.T.A. AND SECRETARIES

● Giving up their time to work in the P.T.A. are the mothers of Beverly's Lil Abners. On the board are Mrs. L. Barton, Mrs. C. Chamberlain, presidents; Mrs. J. Forrest, Mrs. R. Hall, Mrs. L. Kelton, Mrs. R. Landahl, Mrs. J. Lawrence, Mrs. V. Lohr, Mrs. C. Marx, council presidents; Mrs. M. Moses, Mrs. R. Olson, Mrs. R. Pauley, Mrs. J. Perkins, Mrs. P. Richardson, Mrs. C. Smith, and Mrs. J. Trebler. These are the fine parents who were interested enough to work behind the scenes.

● Takin' notes for the city folks are Beverly's hardworking secretaries. Their duty consists of keeping records of the students for the faculty and colleges.

Working as head secretary in the Main Office and as Mr. Peters' private secretary is Mrs. Elsie Smith. Taking care of the textbooks and supplies and also of the maintenance and repairs of books is Mrs. Ethel Martin in the bookroom. Acting as library clerk and keeping track of library detail work is Mrs. Catherine Araujo. Filling the post as secretary to the nurse is Mrs. Virginia Atwood. Handling programing in the Guidance Office are Miss Marie Rose and Miss Gynnenda Eleff, who do secretarial work for the counselors and handle the cumulative records for students. Mrs. Marie Goetz is the Student Body Auditor, who is stationed in the Student Store. Mrs. Edna Muskie works in the Main Office attending a switchboard, taking care of public relations, and handling transcripts going to colleges and universities. Acting as secretary to the Dean of Boys is Mrs. Beatrice Kennedy in the Attendance Office, who takes care of tardy and absence slips.

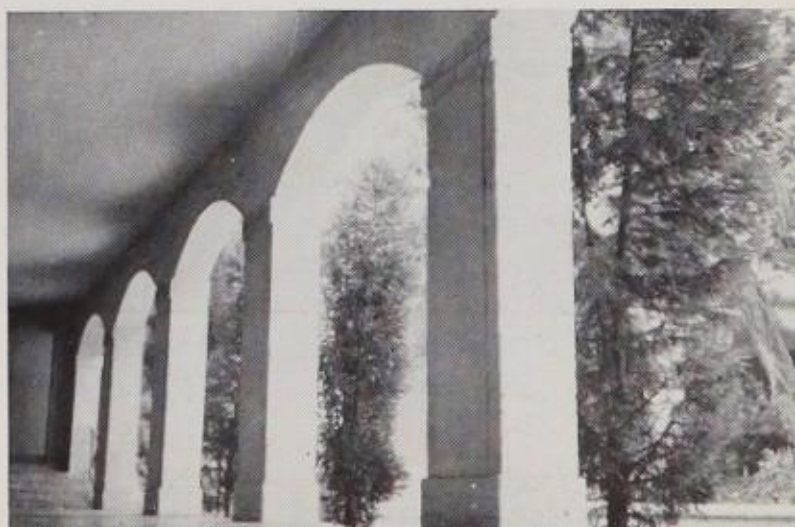
CAMPUS

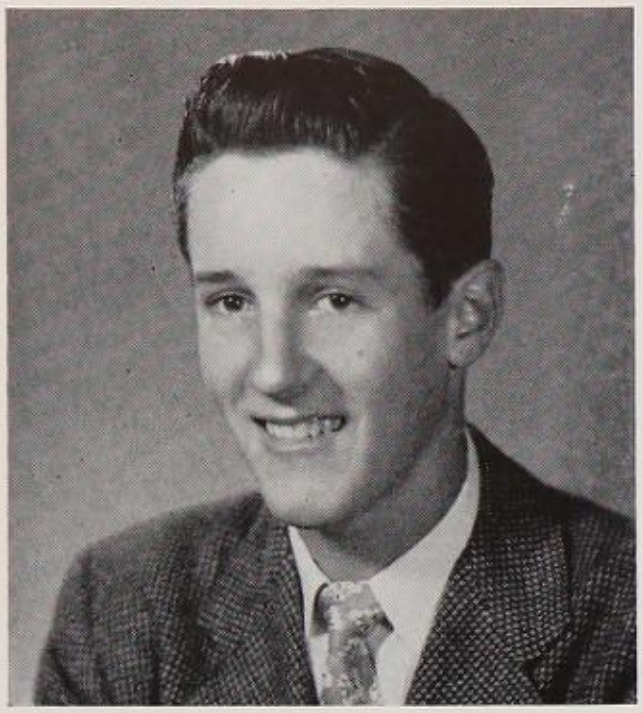
Through these doors to our corridors and classrooms lies the pathway to the future of all those students who enter them. When we are asked if we attend Beverly, do we answer with pride and then realize that we belong to something wonderful? Are we really grateful for the beautiful landscape that lies within our footsteps, or is it simply a campus on and around which we spend seven hours a day?

In considering the structure of its buildings and the beauty of the campus, we will surely have to say that Beverly is one of the most attractive high schools in the country.

Looking up, we see the vast velvety green lawns, the lofty tower, and the white building in Norman architecture. Not often do we notice the arch-lined hallway, quiet after a day full of bustling students, or the parking lot filled with cars and happy people headed homeward. These things along with the spacious athletic fields, the famous swim gym, the well equipped rooms, and the facilities available to each student make us deeply thankful. Even the well attended cafeteria and the tennis courts make us feel indeed fortunate. When listening to the low-toned chimes we must truly be very proud.



WINTER CABINET



Philip Gay
Student Body President

The four-year period of high school education has passed. The entering freshman has become the graduating senior. The four big steps have been taken, and with each one we have seen Beverly through a different light.

As freshmen our first step put us into a new and strange world, but it wasn't long until that strange world became a home to us. We felt quite important because we realized that we were a part of Beverly. Along with our school work came school activities—activities that gave us new friends as well as new interests.

The second step was easier but just as important as the first one. We were sophomores and ready to take our part in Beverly's affairs. Problems that would have bothered us the year before were easily solved. We had learned much, but that was just the beginning. We didn't bother to think of the work and organization behind it all.

With our third step we became upper classmen, and as such we worked and became familiar with our high school. It didn't take us long to awaken to the fact that it was a tremendous job to make Beverly the really fine school it is. We began to think more seriously of student elections and found ourselves occupying some student government posts. Oh, it was really great to be a junior, but we couldn't wait to be seniors.

Finally, believe it or not, after our fourth step, we were seniors! Strangely enough, we took it in our stride. This was the year that would be the most remembered, not only because of the many senior activities, but because we had learned to appreciate our school, our teachers, and most important, one another.

I am very grateful, not only to my fellow students who taught me fellowship and to the school which taught me good sportsmanship, but to the capable faculty who furthered my scholarship.

The wide-eyed freshmen class with its fearless leader, Jerry Poe, went television way with a super talent show. John Anderson piloted the sophomore class river boat through another talent assembly which made the Beverly shoremen glad to see it arrive. A sophomore meeting for the induction of freshmen was also provided by the diligent class.

The Pigskin Prom was presented by Walt Dougher and the junior class, which also did much in sponsoring the honesty plan presented to the students by the Alphas and Knights. Topping off all other Dogpatch activities was the comical and successful senior play, "Turn Back The Clock," and the senior dance which, although it was cancelled, raised over $200 for the March of Dimes. The leader of the mighty class was Dick Langendorf, who did much to open the curtain to its best and final year.

The Student Council with its presiding officer, Phil Gay, had a very eventful semester. An individual committee was set up to look into a better solution for Beverly campus cleanup. A new handbook known as the NORMAN GUIDE, which gave information on regulations, social customs, and services of Beverly was published.

With the classes and student body working together the results were new and progressive.

SUMMER CABINET

Steve Platt
Student Body President

As the Class of 1952 takes notice of its final year on Beverly's campus, we think back about the two semesters we have just completed. The fun of our senior activities—the senior play, ditch day, the talent show, our prom, baccalaureate, and finally, graduation—could not be forgotten by the participants. The thrills of our athletic events, as well as Beverly's Own Carnival, will long be remembered as high spots in our final year. Leaving Beverly will be difficult, but we shall always keep with us the wonderful memories of our senior year.

We seniors are very proud of the fact that our class was the leader in the inauguration of two new events at Beverly—the basketball rooting section and the car pools. They gave many Normans the chance to become part of Beverly spirit. The car pools, especially, promoted a feeling of friendliness among the upper and lower classmen. We can be proud of the fine record the senior class has made.

Many of us do not realize just how lucky we are to have the privilege of attending Beverly Hills High School. Our instructors and administrators are tops, our campus is the finest in Southern California, and our spirit and attitude are the backbone of our whole idea of fellowship.

As president of the student body, I was able to see more clearly just how wonderful Beverly is. By circulating among representatives from other schools, I learned how much Beverly High is respected. We don't need Cadillacs and mink coats to prove that we are members of one of the best high schools in the country. Our student government is as sound as a dollar, the cooperation of everyone connected with Beverly High is marvelous, and most important, we have pride in our school.

This year could not have been a success without the help of my cabinet, the faculty, and the HIGH-LIGHTS. I am proud to be a member of the class that has kept Beverly on top. I hope she forever remains that way.

Dogpatch doin's reached their second semester, and all was well at Beverly High. Steve Platt led the student body through the finale of a successful year, while Bill Holzman, vice-president, kept activities alive. Judy Ash took care of the minutes, and Bob Allen watched the treasurer's book.

Within the classes was freshman president, Tom Freiberg, who with the aid of his cabinet prepared for the coming semester. The class colors were chosen, and a successful carnival booth was decorated.

Mike Franks whirled his class through its activities, the biggest being noontime dances put on to promote friendship among the folk at Beverly High.

Clearing a path toward a bright senior year was the junior class led by Dave Kelton and his cabinet. The upper class activities included selling Easter bunny tags to raise money for the Little Flower Orphanage. The juniors also sponsored the collection of pocket comic books for soldiers.

Overcome by the daze of its final weeks at Beverly, the senior class, led by its president, Pierre Mornell, prepared for graduation. Plans for senior day, baccalaureate, and graduation were made. With these arrangements, the final high school goals were completed within Yokum territory.

With the work of the four classes coming to a close, the Hillbillies looked forward to another exciting semester while the seniors anticipated life in college and the business world. Fondly remembering the accomplishments of the year, lower classmen awaited more high school fun while the graduating seniors awaited adult experiences.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

Lorrie Harris
Winter President

Evie Hill
Summer President

Promotion of friendship is the main purpose of Beverly's Girls' League. A girl new to Beverly and frightened by its inhabitants and customs, a group of small children who have little entertainment and few clothes—these are only some of the people who benefit from the League.

Every Beverly belle has had a chance, at one time or another, to take part in the activities this year. Some of these were fund raising drives which were put on by the Ways and Means Committee, parties at Albion Street School, and entertainment at All Nations. While some of the girls modeled, others watched them while attending the Fun and Fashions Tea. A human relations board, which tried to help settle teen-age problems, was established by the Friendship Committee. The Modes and Manners Committee worked hard to prepare a list of suggestions of proper dress for the Beverly school girl, and the Hospitality Committee provided for refreshments at all Girls' League functions. Publicity for the League was handled by the Decoration and Public Relations Committees. In addition to the committee heads on the Board were the presidents of Alpha, Adelphian, and GAA, and a lower grade representative.

Diligent sponsor of the group was Mrs. Romaine Pauley. The active presidents were Lorrie Harris and Evie Hill, who presided over the first and second semesters respectively. The friendship and unselfishness expressed by these girls were reflected by the eagerness with which the cabinets worked.

BOYS' LEAGUE

Will the meeting please come to order? These words which opened the Boys' League board meetings were repeated weekly by Presidents Mike Glick and Joe Blatchford this past year. Assisted by their respective cabinets and the sponsor, Mr. John French, these two leaders strived to fulfill the purposes of the League: to promote friendship, to develop leadership, to foster good fellowship and spirit, to give all boys experience in working together, and to give more boys a chance to serve their school.

The Boys' League consists of every boy in the Beverly High student body. The Board is made up of the four officers, representatives from classes, and six committee heads. The committees are publicity, refreshments, social events, art, sports, entertainment, and philanthropy.

Among the doin's of the League was the making of a Norman Newsreel, which gave an entertaining account of campus life and activities at Beverly. In cooperation with the girls' tennis team, the League sponsored a popular tennis assembly. Again in cooperation, but this time with the Girls' League, a wonderful dance was sponsored. Topping off the year was a most worthwhile project—the entertainment, parties, and companionship given to the little children at All Nations twice a week.

Among other activities was the Albion Street School Christmas party, which gave happiness to many young'uns and was a display of the unselfish desires of the Boys' League.

Dick Chamberlain
Chief Justice

STUDENT COURT

Guilty or not guilty, that is the question. The Dogpatch court is in session, and chief judge, Dick Chamberlain, looks grimly at the accused who shakingly awaits the verdict.

Mr. Skonk (the accused) does not realize, however, that justice reigns supreme in this student court, and he cringes as an associate judge, Don Crowell, interrupts to explain that the purpose of the session is to lessen, if possible, penalties for offenses committed. Mr. Skonk feels better as the other justices smile, and Barbara Butcher tells him that they usually meet once every three weeks on Thursday. He seems more at home when Bobbie Lozabnick tells him how much better it is for students to be judged by students and not by the faculty. Because of the similarity in age between the judges and the defendants, the problems at hand are understood more thoroughly, and less resistance is given to advice offered by students.

Getting interested, Mr. Skonk asks what some of the offenses sent to Student Court are. Tony Nast tells him that the most common cases are smoking, cutting classes, and conduct unbecoming a Norman. Our central figure stops trembling and asks if any faculty members take part in decisions. Mary Tobin explains that the Dean of Boys' and the Girls' Adviser sit in on cases but never offer opinions unless they are needed for a point of information. Dick Blaine adds that all justices are appointed by the student body president.

Mary Tobin explains that a person is rarely sent to court unless he is proved ot be involved in the crime in some way. After he is caught in the act of the crime, the offender is sent to the Dean of Boys' or the Girls' Adviser. He is then sent to court. If he desires, the student may plead his own case and relate all circumstances and incidents involved in the case.

Mr. Skonk, I am sorry to say, is found guilty, but he leaves the court with a great deal on his mind and a desire to be a better Norman in the future. He realizes the efficiency of the court and knows the valuable experience being gained by its justices.

SPIRIT COMMITTEE

Judy Rude Marcia Sebel
Spirit Committee Co-chairmen

"Go-Go-Getum-Getum, Fight! Fight!" Behind these words and all Beverly cheers, games, and rallies was the smooth work of the sport supporting Spirit Committee.

Kicking high their heels were the Co-chairmen, Marcia Sebel, former drum majorette, and Judy Rude, cheerleader. Members of the committee were head pom-pon girl, Arline Anderson; head drum majorette, Audrey Ganulin; and head cheerleader, Bob Donaldson. Holding up the boys' viewpoint on the committee were Commissioners of Athletics Mike Cahill and Mike Glick and Commissioners of Publicity Pierre Mornell and Bill Ruggles. Pitching punches to produce sensational stunts was sub-committee chairman, Barry Gross. Decoration chairman was Tony Nast, who oversaw the work during the decoration of all games. The Rembrandt of all posters for activities was Chairman Vicki Shuken. Blasting the final touch to the list of members was Jim Bay, head of Beverly's band.

Prominent in the memories of all Spirit Committee members this year was the Samo-Hi rally, during which Beverly rooters displayed spirit superior to Samo's.

Proving itself constructive to the members by introducing them to new schools and people, the committee inspired Beverly High to greater heights in spirit.

BOTTOM ROW: T. Nast. SECOND ROW: A. Anderson, J. Rude, M. Sebel, V. Shuken, A. Ganulin. TOP ROW: M. Glick, B. Gross, M. Cahill, B. Donaldson, J. Bay.

SENIOR PERSONALITIES

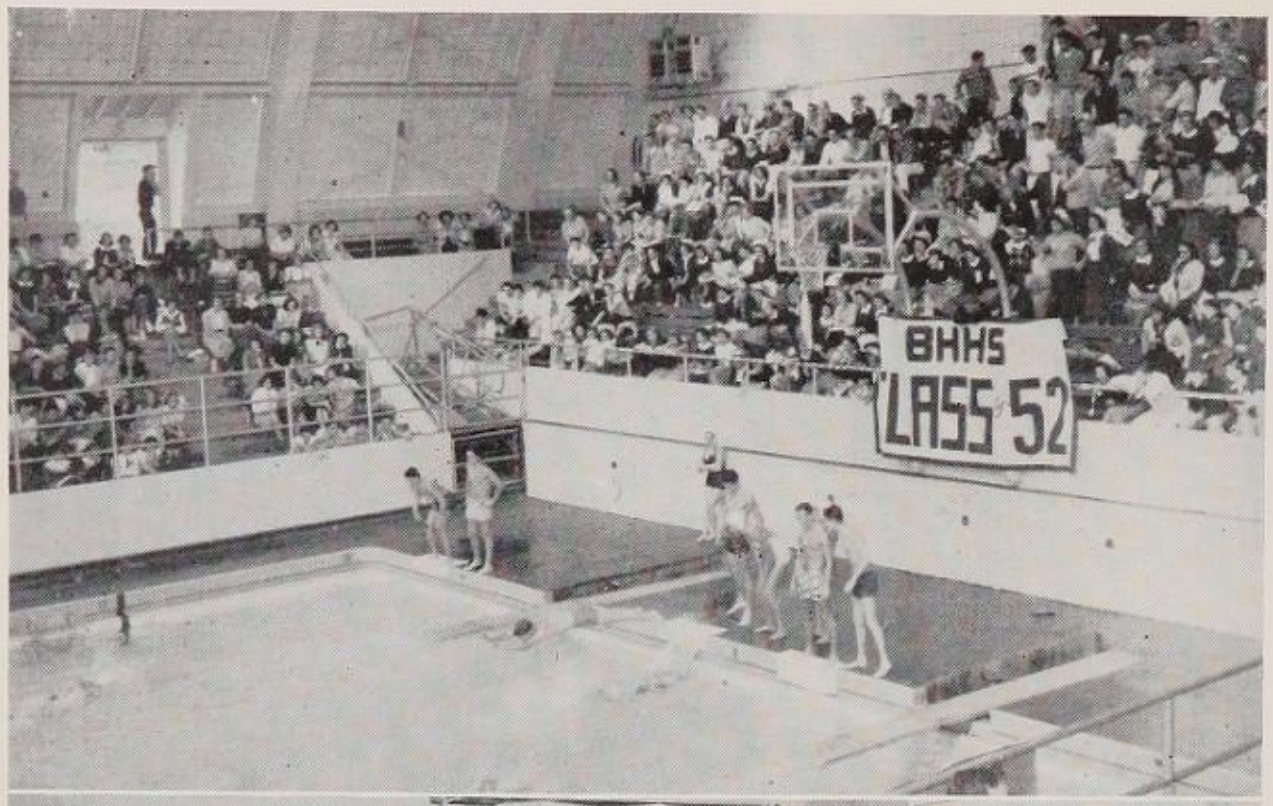
Apparently more interested in horses than in women, handsome Pete "Lil Abner" Bren ignores the attentions of beautiful Margie "Daisy Mae" Baumgartner.

It appears as if Lorrie "Mammy Yokum" Harris is mocking Laurie "Available Jones" Glass for not being too available, particularly considering they are both Most Likely to Succeed.



Senior athletes swim beneath the class banner as the mighty senior team licks its junior adversaries.

SENIOR SAGA

● Our first day at Beverly! A polio scare caused this day to be two weeks late in arriving, and all loyal Normans mourned in approved fashion—beach attire. Then the grind began. Tom Van Sant and Frank Ulf were student body presidents while the class was led to "surpass with Glass" and "click with Glick." We presented our first mighty effort, "The Green Years," which is still unequaled as a talent show. Two great exhibits were presented, "Hollywood Legend" and "Undaunted," a student-made movie. We welcomed the scoreboard. The schmoos became the children of every going-steady couple on campus.

● The new look on the girls and the carnival were highlights of our sophomore year. Gordon Clarke and Hank Moore, hearing the cry "Give 'em the axe," got campus clean-up off to a start. Green and white stayed with us to become our class colors. Pierre Mornell and our femme, Lorrie Harris, took over the class, which did right well for itself by being the winners of the polio drive, Frosh-Soph Day, and Hello Week. At the end of the year we said good-bye to Mr. Crossley and hello to a new crush, Mario Lanza.

● As juniors we were on the ball, beginning with the "Pigskin Prom." Fresh from Montebello to enjoy it was Mr. Peters, our new principal. The campus was still being cleaned up, and we learned to sit for an atom bomb drill. Our basketball team hit the top by being co-champs of the Bay League. Miss Schwerin went to Germany, and Mr. Spellicy went to the other side of the world, Japan. Laurie Glass, who was responsible for the Dixieland assembly, and Bill Saxton were the class presidents, while Jim Morrow and Art Stauffer led the school. The PTA made a survey about our habits and problems, collecting and tabulating some interesting results. War came to Korea, and the canteen closed. Dewey Robinson, our number one rooter, and Mrs. Floy Connors, popular member of the Social Studies Department, passed away. We concluded our junior year with our tennis team's taking CIF.

● Hey! We're seniors, and we got off to a good start by trouncing the juniors on Junior-Senior Day. Turning back the clock brought us to the days of our parents for a terrific senior play. The Norman Newsreel, Liberace, and the modern Christmas pageant will long be remembered, as will our student body presidents, Phil Gay and Steve Platt, and the first boy to be elected vice-president, Bill Holzman. Senior presidents Dick Langendorf, who grew a beard as the girls were letting their poodle cuts grow out, and "Pekie" Mornell, star of TV and basketball, were great. California's liquid sunshine caused us to be the first to make money on a charity dance that was never held. TV made a star of "Doc" Morrison, and seniors scored 100% on a TV quiz show. The campus clean-up was still in progress. The faculty talent show predated Lil Abner's marriage but durn near predicted it. Seniors' mothers left their housework for the Senior Mothers' Tea, and we "ditched" our classes for ditch day. The prom was all it could be and more; baccalaureate inspired us to be better people. Graduation on Friday the 13th was a very good day for all those who wished Beverly au revoir.

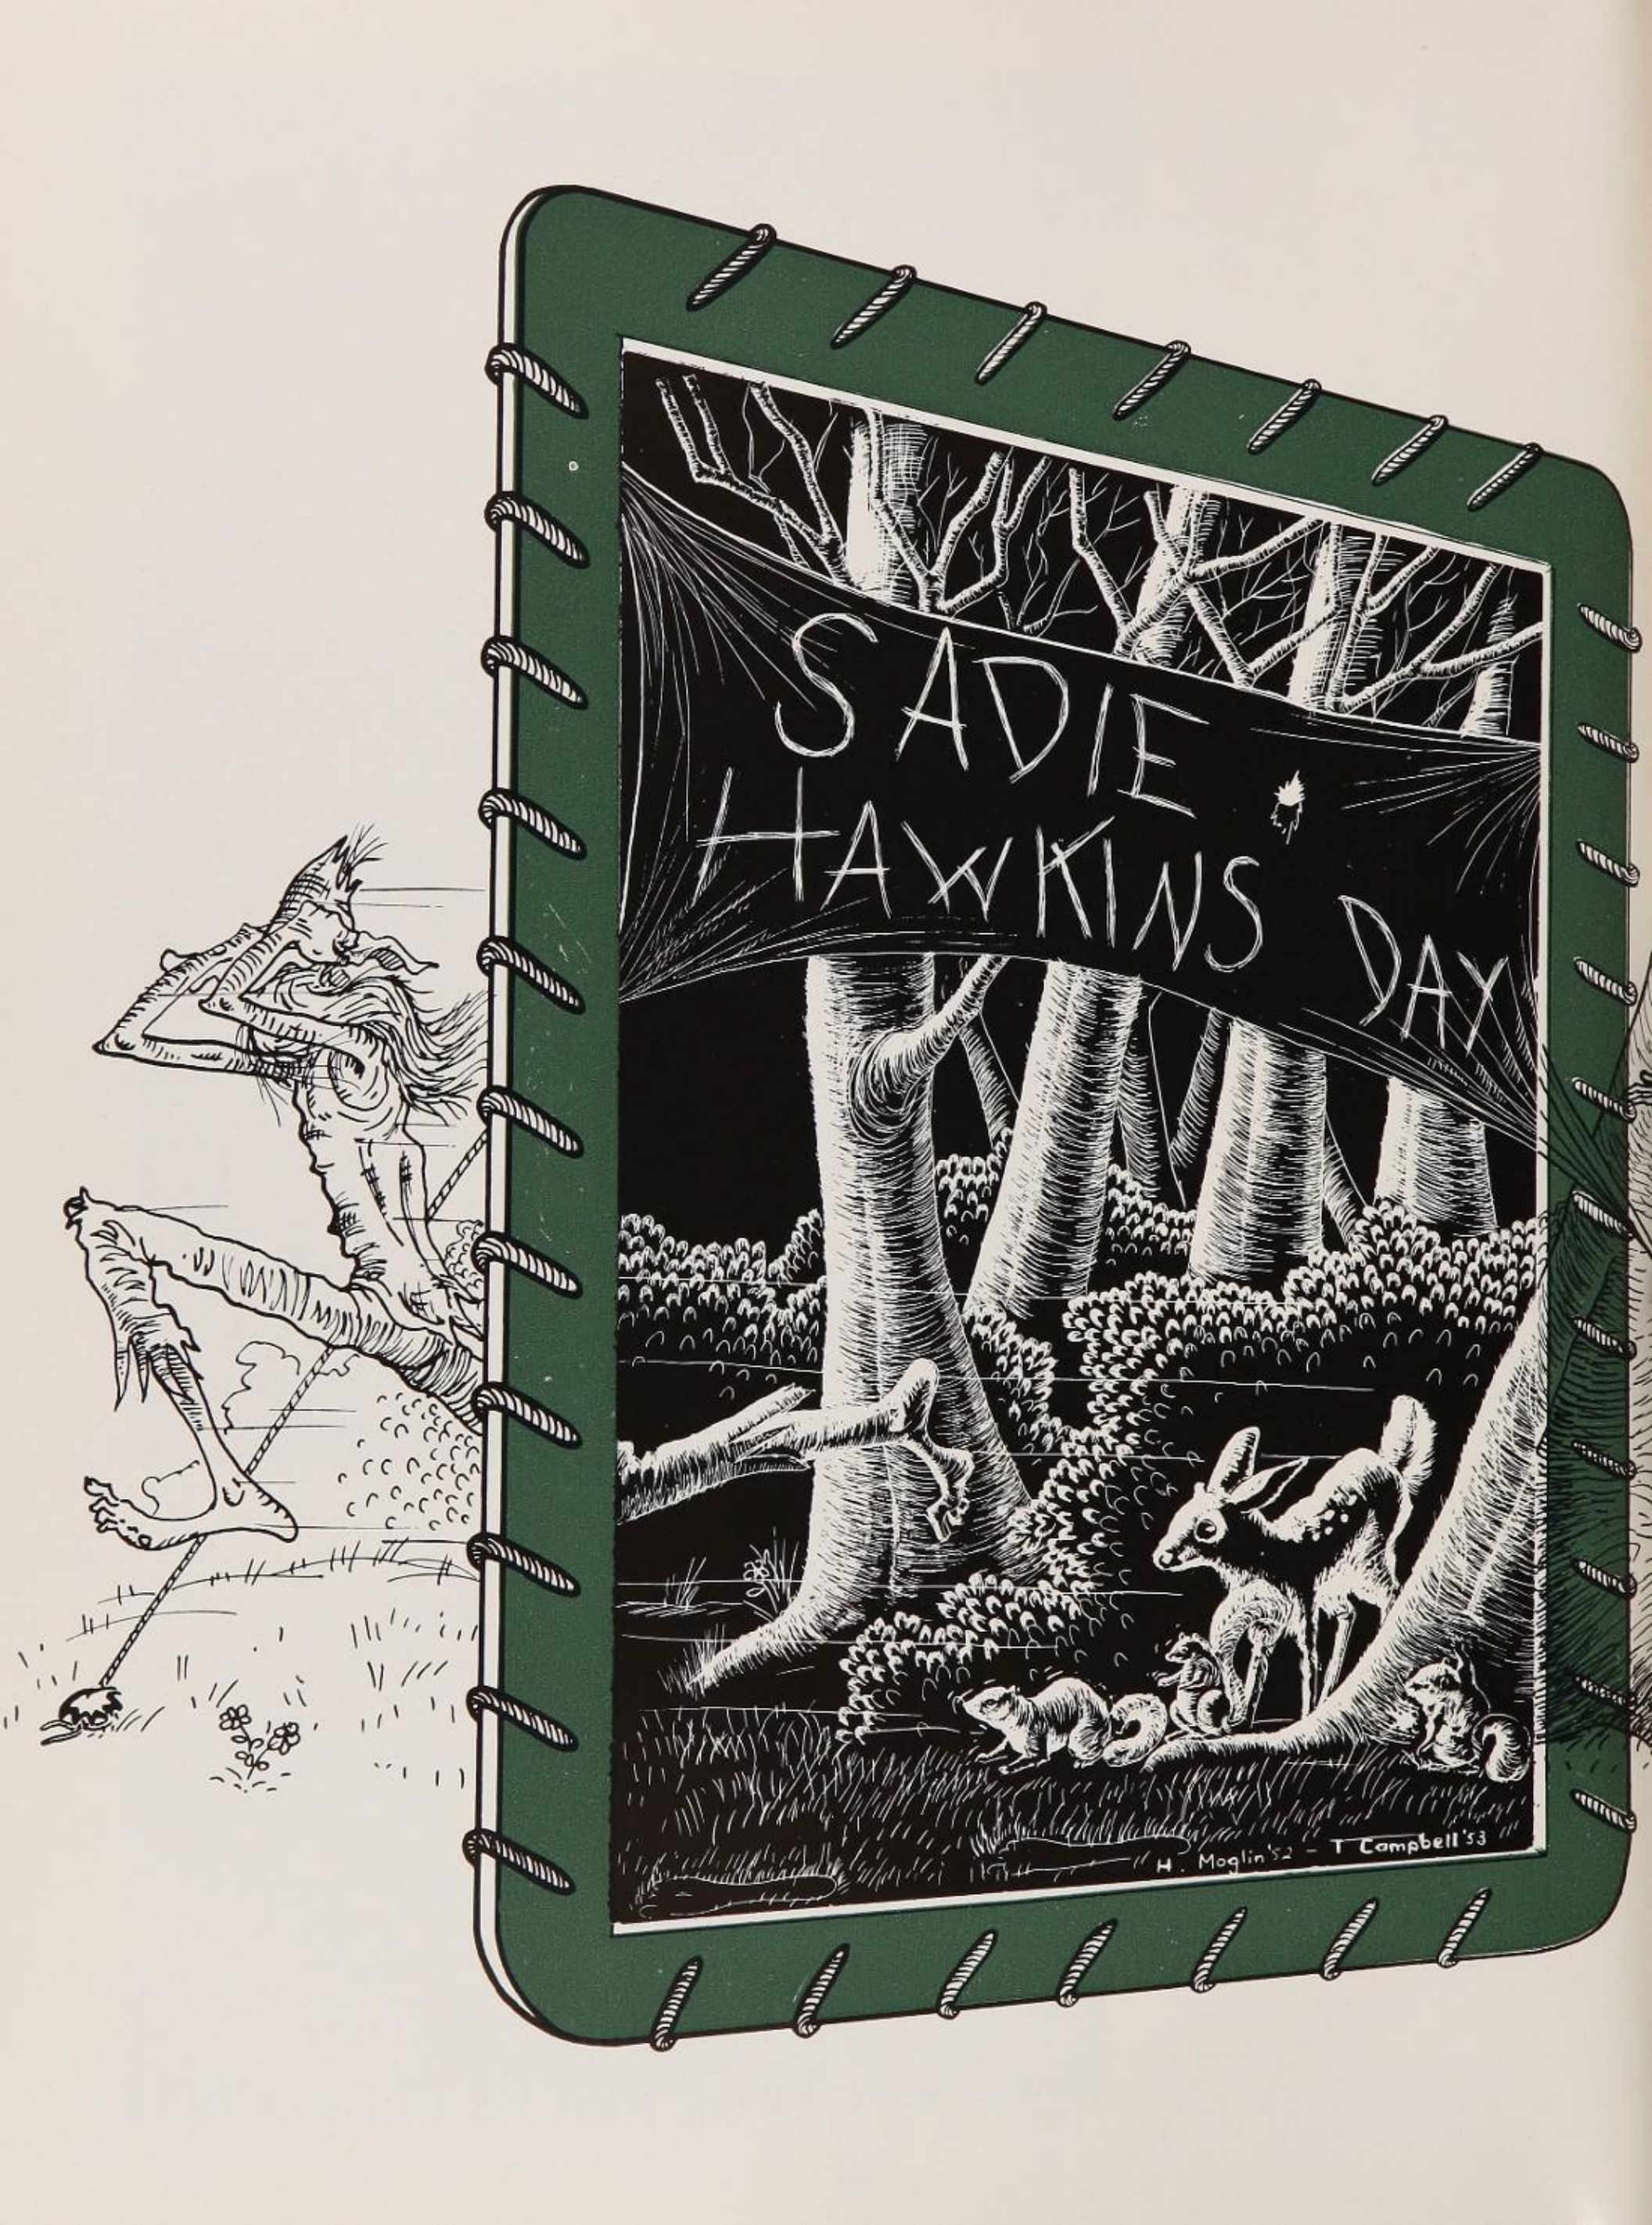
IN MEMORIUM

CAROL PINCUS Class of 1954



SADIE HAWKINS DAY
H. Moglin '52 - T Campbell '53

ACTIVITIES

Pictured here are leaders of the WATCHTOWER literary hillbillies. Seated are Virginia Berger and Miss Ruth Wheeler, and standing are Don Tinsley and Rita Kauffman.

WATCHTOWER

Did you ever notice the quiet hum of activity each fifth period around Room 133? The level floor of the class was changed into the hillbilly mountain country, as Beverly's great literary geniuses gathered there every day during the second semester and feverishly worked to make ready the 1952 WATCHTOWER.

Editor-in-chief Virginia Berger and her staff invaded and attempted to capture on paper the memorable portions of Beverly. Coming out of the Ozarks to read and handle all proof was Rita Kauffman, while Don Tinsley took charge of innumerable pictures.

Vicki Shuken and Nancy Janis left their corncob pipes to handle the clubs and their activities, and Peggy Albin spent her time editing the amusing feature section in addition to heading administration. Loretta Isaacs penned the class and school activity section, and Marcia Mayers and Marilynn Young had the tough job of deciphering and assembling the "rogues' gallery" better known to the layman as the class pictures. Jerry Maltz held the position of boys' sports editor, and Verna Billard concentrated on the GAA and girls' sports. Fred Feingold and Bill Compter served as business managers and headed the very successful WATCHTOWER sale. Serving as captain of the hillbillies was Miss Ruth Wheeler.

Art Editor

Layouts, division sheets, cartoons, and cutting and mounting pictures occupied most of the time of the WATCHTOWER art staff, as the students gathered each day under the guidance of Mr. Bryant M. Hale, faculty director, and Art Editor Evie Hill.

Planning interesting and eye-pleasing layouts was the job of Eileen Field, Margot Lee, and Desiree Simmons. Cutting and mounting pictures kept Marilyn Bara, Shirley Davis, and Regina Dunner quite busy. Steve Salenger designed and drew all the clever cartoons; and Trubee Campbell, Howard Moglin, and Carol Sorkin worked on the attractive division sheets. Publicity man was Bob Samuels. Alan "Shutterbug" Reed headed photography and snapped dozens of pictures for the staff. Dick Chamberlain did all of the lettering.

The results of the art staff's work can be seen throughout the entire yearbook, and much of this could not have been accomplished without the patience of Mr. Hale and the leadership and artistic ability of Evie.

It takes much concentration to handle the proof and copy-reading duties of HIGHLIGHTS' editors, as can plainly be seen by the expressions on the faces of Fern Victor, Lorrie Harris, and Dick Rigg.

HIGHLIGHTS

To the hum of typewriters and printing presses a group of competent, capable, and slightly zany people published and distributed the weekly Beverly Hills HIGHLIGHTS.

With a new editor's desk, very official looking file baskets, and the addition of clip-boards for page editors, the fall semester staff quickly organized under the excellent leadership of Editor-in-chief Fern Victor and Managing Editor Bill Ruggles.

Virginia Berger planned the very interesting first page, while Loretta Isaacs served as feature editor. Susie Doree and Mary Waldsmith, an inseparable twosome, managed third page, and all sports were excellently covered by Roger Natkin and Dick Rigg. Audrey Ganulin wrote Norman Nomad, and Jerry Maltz covered alumni news in addition to writing the new humor column. The club column was entertainingly written by Nancy Janis, and Sandra Dare handled circulation. Ad manager was Don Factor. Sigmund Porter kept track of finances, and Louise Kaperl served as brief editor.

With the coming of the new semester HIGHLIGHTS positions were changed, and a few cubs were lucky enough to make the grade.

Looking over the weekly edition of the HIGHLIGHTS are, standing, M. Waldsmith, R. Natkin, A. Ryskind, S. Doree, B. Compter, Mr. Don Davies, and V. Billard. Seated are the second semester Editors-in-chief Dick Rigg and Lorrie Harris.

Lorrie Harris and Dick Rigg were elected as co-editors; and Audrey Ganulin, assisted by Sandra Dare, took over first page. The Doree-Waldsmith team edited the spring semester second page, and Fern Victor received third page responsibilities. Roger Natkin and Allan Ryskind covered all sporting events.

Cubs Maxine Karpman and Mike Forrest were made club columnists, while Nancy Janis covered alumni news. Loretta Isaacs received the Norman Nomad honors for the spring semester, and Louise Kaperl managed circulation. A newly created entertainment column was written by Don Factor, as Bill Compter and assistant Shirley Davis took over Don's ad manager job.

Second semester citizen sports were covered by Herb Newman and Jon Rose, as another cub, Selma Margaretten, wrote the girls' sports column. Cynthia Mauzey and Verna Billard covered both semesters' CITIZEN church news, and Rita Kauffman took care of CITIZEN school news. Beverly Wentworth served as staff artist and Dave Henley as staff photographer.

Mr. Don Davies, faculty adviser, oversaw each week's publication and managed to keep the aspiring young journalists well in hand. Mr. Richard Jackson served as compositor for both semesters' staffs, and Mr. Jerry Ogata was employed as typesetter.

BOTTOM ROW: F. Nuell, L. Tabor, S. Milberg, C. Liff, M. Karpman, B. Goldstone, S. Rosenberg, D. Barton. SECOND ROW: Myrna Weiner, Mike Fox, Lynne Visser, Joan Longstreet, Soni Press, Marcy Perry, Nina Marcus. TOP ROW: Mike Harmon, Mike Serlin, Jim Robbins, Mike Cahill.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

That "new look" hit Room 287, as the A Cappella Choir ushered in the fall semester wearing brand new robes, which were purchased by the Beverly Hills Board of Education.

Arden Brame led the vocal group through its paces during the first semester with Mel Chudacoff elected to the vice-presidency and Pat Patterson handling the secretarial duties. The Choir made its first official appearance of the year at the Armistice Day assembly, when it presented its inspiring version of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Musical appearances of the group included Christmas programs presented at Horace Mann, El Rodeo, and Beverly Vista grammar schools and performances at the annual Christmas pageant.

During the second semester Bob Donaldson took over the presidency; he was assisted by Veep Dick Grey and Secretary Linda Behrstock. The vocal company continued its activities, as it partook in the annual Spring Concert. A musical program was presented for the PTA, and the Long Beach Choral Festival followed in May. The group played host to ten choirs and ten glee clubs during the Beverly Hills Festival. Mr. Glen Case expertly led the group, while Mrs. Eloise Smith accompanied.

GIRLS' AND BOYS' GLEES

In order to prepare themselves for more advanced work in the A Cappella Choir the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs spent the past two semesters working under Mr. Glen M. Case, faculty director.

The Girls' Glee, which made an official appearance at the Christmas Pageant, gave such presentations as the "Lord's Prayer." Marilyn Mays led the girls through their first semester with the help of Vice-president Harriet Quigley and Secretaries Jacquelyn Boyce and Margaret Ach. During the second semester the group elected Jeanette Miller president, Stephanie Miller vice-president, and Kathy Leake and Rayna Mayer, secretaries.

With only eleven members in the organization the Boys' Glee made an excellent showing for the music department. The boys elected no officers because of their small group.

ORCHESTRA

Traveling from the hillbilly land of Lil Abner, we now invade the concert world of the Beverly High orchestra. This talented group of 41 students entertained the student body during such assemblies as the Christmas Pageant, Senior Play, and Spring Concert. The four elementary schools also applauded a series of musical programs presented for them by the musicians.

Mr. George Wright, faculty director, proudly told of the group's first division superior rating at the West Los Angeles County Festival held in Inglewood, March 14. This fine showing led to an invitation to the final festival at Santa Monica. Competing against over 100 orchestras and 6000 students, Beverly's ensemble was one of six schools to receive a first division rating in concert playing and sight-reading. Orchestra manager for both semesters was Julius Grollman, who was assisted by Malcolm Hughes.

Gathered on the auditorium stage is Beverly's orchestra, looking mighty proud of all the well-deserved honors it has won in competition with other California schools.

• Whisking through all the Southern California tournaments, Beverly's Forensic Squad took leading honors by copping four out of the seven top places in the Novice Individual Tournament. Another hard earned glory was given to the Squad for the winning of first and second places in a novice debate. Mr. Ralph Arnold coached the Squad, which excelled under the leadership of President Sandi Conant.

• Sixteen members of the Radio Speech class and its teacher-sponsor, Mr. Ward Lester, spent a very enjoyable year during which the members learned all the fundamentals of radio broadcasting. Script writing, acting, sound effects, and directing were all covered in the year's workshop. The results of the year were presented to the student body in an assembly on May 7. The script, "Relive and Learn," was written by Sally Beckwith, and it told the story of a couple who learned tolerance on a plane ride to heaven.

Props, lighting, and backdrops for such activities as the March of Dimes assembly, the Spring Play, and the Christmas Pageant were handled by the "stage-hands." Under the direction of Mr. Bryant M. Hale, the group also designed all sets used for the senior play and converted the stage into a scene straight out of a "Lil Abner" comic strip for the faculty talent show.

CARNIVAL

● Strewn upon the grassy plot next to the back parking lot was found a motley collection of wooden booths housing everything in the line of carnival fun. It was the night of May 9 and of Beverly's Own Carnival. While the air was filled with gay spirit, happy Normans walked among the rows of over twenty-six different booths. A person could do almost anything along the pathways lined with the decorated booths that supplied food and games for all to enjoy.

Explaining the purpose of the carnival from behind a mountain of forms that had to be filled out, carnival Co-chairmen Sally King and Dick Langendcrf told of the opportunities for participation and fun the carnival offered. They hinted that financial gain was not the only reason for our carnival. Going along with this feeling was Mr. John H. French, faculty adviser of the festivities. It was the student body of Beverly, however, that made the carnival great. It was a carnival that will be remembered long after the souvenirs have become old and faded with the doings of old man time.

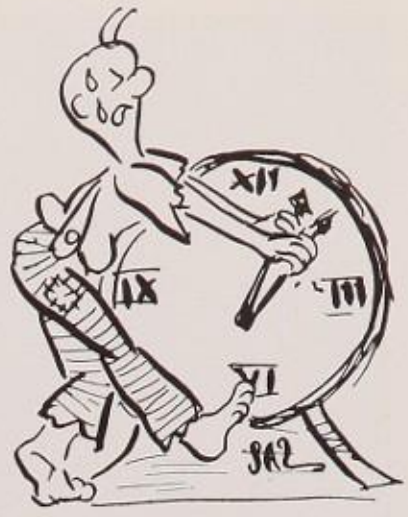
Gathered in the Palmer family living room are (standing) Steve Platt, Bill Ruggles and Dick Chamberlain. Seated are Tyler Gilman, Elaine Meitus, and Sue Hall.



"TURN BACK THE CLOCK"

Way back when everyone was doing the Charleston, wearing racoon coats, and the women swooned over Rudy Vallee, life was fun and exciting—just ask any senior! The class of '52 brought these days back to Beverly with the presentation of their play "Turn Back The Clock" by Marijane and Joseph Hayes.

The hilarious comedy centered around Evie Palmer, a dramatic and slightly corny teenager from the "roaring twenties" of mother's day.

Elaine Meitus did an enjoyable job in portraying Evie, while Steve Platt as Johnnie Stone and Dick Chamberlain as Charlie created the proper amount of bedlam in vying for Evie's attentions.

Evie's ukelele-strumming brother, Larry, was ably portrayed by Bill Ruggles, while the apples of his eye, Irene Isherwood and Maybelle Harrison, the southern siren, were played by Peggy Albin and Sandi Conant respectively.

Lynda Mitchell and Pat Gold, double cast as Sally, carried on a love-affair, junior size, with Bill Compter and Laurie Glass, who alternated the part of Ollie Bannister.

Lenore Bernstein as Hilda, the maid; Ann Hanson as Barbara Bannister; Beverly Wentworth as Phyllis; and "Slim," played by Jim Bay, rounded out the excellent cast.

The entire production was under the direction of Mrs. Florence Quertermous, without whose help the seniors could not have presented the successful comedy.

Transferring the auditorium stage back to the flapper era of the 1920's is the entire senior play cast, depicted here in a scene from "Turn Back the Clock."

Christmas interpretive dancers Lynda Mitchell (Mary) and Nancy Wolvin (the Angel) depict a scene from "The Greatest Story Ever Told."

CHRISTMAS PAGEANT

"One of the Greatest Stories Ever Told," written by Mrs. Marjorie Viau, was presented to the student body on December 18 by the art, music, and physical education departments. The age old Christmas story was performed as an interpretive modern dance instead of the still tableaus used in years before.

The artistic touches of the beautiful pageant were handled by Mrs. Lucille Robert and by members of the costume design and art classes. Those helping with the work included Simone Alexander, April Hathcock, Sherry Hawkins, Barbara Jackson, Judy Licker, Colleen Page, Joan Reisz, Barbara Santell, Carol Sorkin, Nancy Wolvin, and Shirley Wood. Others were Lillian Ansill, Leda Carroll, Jeri Coates, Jane Cohen, Shirlee Darner, Barbara Eisendrath, Michael Jean Fox, Carol Harris, Joan Hartley, Marcia Kraushaar, Sandra Lattin, Marlene Shane, Vicki Shuken, Missy Tiss, Margy Waldsmith, Beverly White, Mary Beth Wilson, and Dorothy Witt.

Supplying the inspiring musical background, the choir sang such selections as "Oh, Holy Night," "Sing We All Noel," and "Carol-Noel." Mr. Case directed the choral group. The orchestra, conducted by Mr. George Wright, played "Christmas Fantasy" and other numbers to open the assembly. Mrs. Eloise Smith accompanied on the organ.

The modern dancers who eye-pleasingly interpreted the characters of the nativity story were directed by Mrs. Jeanne Edwards of the physical education department. Dick Chamberlain supplied the narration, as Linda Behrstock took the part of Joseph and Lynda Mitchell interpreted Mary. Other dancers included Gloria Blitsten, Judy Chase, Elaine Meitus, Faye Nuell, Judy Rude, Marcia Sebel, Nancy Wolvin, and Shirley Wood.

All settings were under the direction of Mr. Bryant M. Hale, stage director, while Tony Nesburn and his electricity wizards took charge of the beautiful and colorful lighting effects. Alan Reed handled sound, and Dave Tanzman served as stage manager. Stage crew members consisted of Joel Levy, John Phillips, Bill Saxton, Ronan Gomberg, Wesley Kajiwara, Roger Black, Richard Nason, Elliott Robbins, Dave Crandall, Lee Lewin, Steve Salenger, Dave Ager, Kyle Given, Bob Fisher, Bob Stuchen, John Wallenchok, Louis Pomerantz, Jim Goldwasser, Jerry Klein, Stuart Ex, Hyman Siegal, Richard Robinson, and Bob Kuhn.

"YOUNG LINCOLN"

With spring firmly established in Beverly Hills the student body's thoughts turned toward the sixteenth president of the United States and the spring play—"Young Lincoln" by Betty Smith.

Bill Holzman gave a powerful performance as the teen-aged and thoughtful Abe, while Tyler Gilman and Elaine Meitus portrayed the gruff father and understanding step-mother. Young Lincoln dreamed of a law career after listening to the distinguished lawyer, Mr. Breckinridge, played by a bearded and grey haired Billy Compter.

Abe's sister Sara (Stephanie Carey) married the villain of the production, "evil" Aaron Grisby, characterized by Stan Marx. Included among the Lincoln clan were Dennis and Levi (Mike Glick and Jeff Frey), who eventually became the square dancing husbands of Abe's half-sisters, Tildy and Sally, played by Jeri Coates and Val Wallad. Steve Platt, Barry Gross, and Sheela Fenton rounded out the rest of the square dancers along with the caller, Zeke (Nate Friedman). Abe's boyhood friend and teacher, Squire Pate, was presented by Dick Levitt.

Behind-the-scene jobs were capably handled by Eileen Ross, student producer-director, with the help of her assistant, Rochelle Miller. Prop committee members Lenore Bernstein, Pat Gold, and Margie Lee Scallen transformed Beverly's stage into an Indiana log cabin, while Rosemary Edelman and Eva Kay handled the pioneer-type costumes. The make-up crew consisted of Chairman Maxine Karpman, Sandi Conant, Verna Douglas, Lorraine Gottfried, Edythe Kavelin, and Barbara Turner. The entire production received its excellent faculty direction from Mrs. Florence Quertermous. Mr. Bryant Hale and his stage crew designed all the authentic-looking sets.

The play was presented to the student body on two successive days, so that the audiences would be smaller and would be able to see the spring production better.

TALENT

The S.S. Sophomore Showboat docked right on Beverly's auditorium stage with a large cargo of talent from the Class of '54. Greetings were extended by Johnnie Anderson, class president and captain of the showboat. Carol Rossen was one of the show's highlights with her dance pantomime, "Get Happy." More music was provided by flutist Toby Abramson and piano accompanist Karolyn Eisenberg. Doug West gave a sample of his soft shoe artistry and high splits.

"Chattanooga Shoe Shine" boys—Joel Lifter and Bud Raffee—entertained with a harmonica duet, and a trip to St. Louis on the Atchison, Topeka, and the Santa Fe was provided by Pianists Cappy Michaels and Rita Seiler. The sophomore showboat continued rolling along with Jeanne Pereira singing "Love Is Where You Find It." Marlene Pomerantz kept a watch for little men in white coats as she pantomimed her way through "I'm Waiting for Napoleon."

The junior class traveled to a very intimate little Parisian cafe to present its talent review, which was under the direction of Class President Dave Kelton. A snappy chorus line of A.W.O.L. soldiers marched through the cafe to the tune of "Sound Off," and all eyes were on the stage when Marcy Perry lost her trousers. Entertaining the patrons were Dick Goldsmith, Don Zucker, Peter Blue, and Mike Lynch with their rendition of "Perfidia."

SHOWS

The Behrstocks, Linda and Vickie, entertained Parisians and Beverlyites with their tapping to the tune "I Got Rhythm." "Jolie Jacqueline" was vocalized by Dick Levitt, and Sandra Lattin offered "Tico Tico."

Normans took a long look at "Beverly as Others See Us" when the graduating class of '52 presented its satirized talent review. Hula dancers Marilyn Marshek and Nancy Wolvin entertained those dining on the luncheon terrace as well as the peasants in the audience. Tyler Gilman opened the show singing original lyrics by Mr. Fred Spellicy, and later he gave a version of "Ol' Man River." Dick Chamberlain added the classical pianist's touch.

The Boff Trio Plus One, consisting of Gary Hoffman, Jim Bay, Paul Raboff, and Roger Black, romped through several lively numbers, followed by Mary Charles and Sandra Robbin harmonizing another original, "Button Up Your Ermine Coat." Jerry Klein narrated the message of "What Beverly Really Means to Me," and concluding the talent-filled show was the singing of the senior hymn. Class President Pierre Mornell and Elaine Meitus directed the entire production.

All of the Dogpatch gang including "Mammy Yokum" Aldrich, "Lil Abner" Glass, "Lem Scragg" Spellicy, "Daisy Mae" Bow, "Fearless Fosdick" Davies, and "Moonbeam McSwine" Edwards, gathered to present one of this year's really special events—the faculty talent show. Head pom-pon girl, "Jelly Roll" Parker, led cheers at the big game with Skonk U. "Goon Girl" Sturges was assistant yell leader. Adding the musical touch, "Canary" Smith and "Caruso" Occhipinti serenaded the delighted audience.

ALPHAS

Beverly Wentworth
Winter President

Marcia Sebel
Summer President

The Alpha Society's bang-up year offered many activities which proved enjoyable to all those who joined in them. Beverly Wentworth, president, and her cabinet, Vice-president Kathy Schumacher, Secretary Peggy Albin, Treasurer Judy Rude, and Historians Evie Hill and Vicki Shuken began the year with a joint Alpha-Knight plan to discourage the cheating situation at Beverly High. This was done by first clearing up the cheating in the group itself and then by presenting the plan to the entire student body. Again with the Knights, the Alphas assisted in the Speech Tournament by time-keeping and hostessing. The blue sweatered girls then led their escorts and guests to the Alpha formal, "Blue Heaven."

At the beginning of the new semester, Marcia Sebel and her crew, Lorrie Harris, vice-president; Elaine Meitus, secretary; Judy Rude, treasurer; and Beverly Wentworth, historian; welcomed the new Alphas and began the next semester's plans. The Alpha mothers were honored at a tea, and the fathers were guests at the father-daughter banquet. The Alpha Spring Tea was held at the Lotus Room of Bullock's Westwood and spring clothes were modeled by the girls. The carnival, with the popular Alpha booth, climaxed the year's activities.

The spirit and pleasure gained by the Alphas will last for many years and will continue to give joy to those who will follow. The lion's share of the credit for such a successful year goes to the sponsor, Miss Alida Parker, who did much with and for the Alphas.

KNIGHTS

Laurie Glass
Winter President

Dick Langendorf
Summer President

The Knights of Beverly High were noted this year for beautiful orchids and somewhat soggy, wet faces, among other things. The former was from their Annual Orchid Dance, and the latter was from the carnival. These same gentlemen could be found raising the flag every morning and watching for stray lunches at assembly time. Living up to the true standards of knighthood, these modern day Gallahads were near at hand when any activity needed help. Track meets, the speech tournament, and the toy drive for underprivileged children all received their special touch. Fathers of the members were treated to the father and son banquet, an enjoyable meal.

Early in the fall, Knights and sister Alphas teamed up to remove cheating from their organizations and to encourage the rest of the school to recognize cheating for what it is and to eliminate it. In the spring the Knights sponsored the USC Band assembly.

Officers for the first semester were Laurie Glass, president; Pierre Mornell, vice-president; Dick Langdendorf, secretary; and Mike Glick, treasurer. Spring leaders were Dick Langendorf, president; Walt Dougher, vice-president; Don Crowell, secretary; and Bill Ruggles, treasurer. Julius Grollman became historian. Laurie and Dick were heard to say that knighthood is a great experience for any fellow, and it leads to a great deal of pleasure, including that of working with the sponsor, Mr. William C. "Doc" Morrison and Mr. Don Davies. The graduating Knights will have many memories of the noon meetings in the chem lab perched over the scenic English Patio.

This year the Adelphians were one of the most active clubs on campus. Led by winter president, Judy Nelson, and spring gavel holder, Jackie Levit, the whole club gave its all to put on the successful "Sweetheart Serenade," held at the Riviera Country Club in February. Not only did the red sweater girls dance, but they sent gifts to an Alaskan orphanage and sewed blankets for the Red Cross. Another Red Cross activity the girls participated in was working at the Los Angeles Blood Bank, serving refreshments to the donors. The club has been instrumental in bringing the Junior Red Cross notice here at Beverly. In fact, the girls were hostesses for the area Council Meeting.

These girls entertained themselves, too. A very enjoyable luncheon was held at the end of thc first semester to honor the outgoing girls, and a barbeque came in the spring. Working right along with the girls on the carnival and every other activity was Mrs. Cora Stephenson, founder and sponsor.

Each day, when school came to a close, the blue-sweatered Squires were seen lowering the flag and putting it away. Guarding the north wing at noon was the job of other top ranking lower classmen. These and other school service activities were evolved from the Monday noon gatherings under the gaveled hand of Dave Kelton, winter president, and Dick Eiler, spring boss-man.

These young stalwarts helped with their participation in the Crestline Camp activities to begin the planning of the entrance of the American Junior Red Cross to the campus. Carnival time found them ready to go with their booth full of fun. To the "Squires' Spring Swing" were dancing many of the student body as well as the Squires' sponsor, Mr. John French. Not only is the Squire organization a symbol of recognition for well performed services to the school, but it is a further opportunity for fellows to get together and do something really constructive.

That smiling face that sat behind the desk many times during the day and stamped "due" on the books you checked out belonged to a Biblion, a member of the honorary club that helped so much in the library. The young librarians held their annual calendar sale soon after the school year opened. Not long after that came the Box Supper. The girls brought the eats and the fellows bid on them. At another social event, the Biblion pins were awarded to the candidates who had fulfilled the requirements for membership. Serving the school through the library, Presidents Arden Brame and Walt Dougher each had an outstanding semester working with an active membership of 24 who were chosen for their character and service. Greatly appreciated by the Biblions was the work of the club sponsor, Miss Hazel Vaughan.

The Biblions sponsored the junior library club, the Lexians. These lower-classmen could be found at many times during the day shelving books and straightening out the volume-laden shelves. The size was so large and the enthusiasm so great it was divided into girls' and boys' groups. Both divisions held on extremely successful book drive for the Children's Hospital. These members gain a valuable knowledge of the library and its classifying system that will be useful in the future; they also have the satisfaction of really helping the school. The leaders of the two groups in the fall were Gail Karp and Steve Rykoff. The Biblions and Lexians keep our library at the peak of condition.

Almost one-tenth of the student body of Beverly High was enrolled as a member in the California Scholarship Federation's local branch. These top students proved their worth by having report cards that could be shown to any proud papa without fear of a trip to the proverbial woodshed. To have been eligible for membership, the student must have presented ten points. The points were computed with each "A" counting as three points and each "B" counting as one point. Two points could have been earned by serving the school. The group was active in various ways. Early in the fall, before the cafeteria was included in campus cleanup, the club assisted in the MDR drive for neatness. Soon after this, the members contributed to send a CARE package to a needy European family.

As explained by Presidents Evie Pattiz and Sanford Ragins, the change was made this year from calling the club Palladians to CSF-ers. This is more fitting to their statewide significance. They, as members in the state scholarship group, were able to partake in the activities set up for the affiliafed groups. Dinners and meetings were included in these activities. Once a month the club held its business meetings under the watchful and responsible eye of its sponsor, Miss Erna Schwerin.

Seniors who were members for six semesters were eligible for the Sealbearer award, and those who were members for four semesters were in line for the Torchbearer award. These graduating honors show the excellence of the scholarship of the graduate.

● Beverly's top scientists, mathematicians, artists, athletes, musicians, and the top ranking students in other departments formed this year's Lektos. These departmental wizards had a social affair soon after they were elected into the club. At this party, they made the black mortar-board toppers with the white Lambda distinguishing the upper surface; this remnant of the Greek alphabet is the emblem of the club. Although it is an inactive club, the honor of becoming Lektos has a great deal of meaning to its members, especially to the president, Jim Elbogen. Miss Iva Frances Hurd sponsored this assortment of Beverly's best.

● Mr. Norman Fjelsted, faculty sponsor of the Alchemists, had his hands full of young Lavoisiers when this organization held its noon meetings. The members found time to try many experiments at noon or after school in the well worn chem rooms at the south end of the upstairs hall. Not only did these scientists keep their knowledge to themselves, but they brought it to the attention of the student body in the General Motors assembly held in April. Grammar school enrollees were treated to these scientific displays at various times throughout the year. First semester president, Sigmund Porter, and equally efficient second semester president, Richard Blaine, were fine leaders who were exceptionally proud to be associated with the Beverly Hills High School honorary science club.

● The AUA, under Presidents Evie Hill and Nancy Wolvin, provided its members with a busy year. The high spot was the sponsorship of the First Annual Bay League Art Forum, which will be continued by other schools. The club increased its enjoyment and knowledge of art by visiting galleries and by having guest speakers. At the Carnival, the booth was noted for its decoration. AUA also had the Spring Art Exhibit that night. Thanks go to the sponsors of AUA, Mrs. Lucille Robert and Mrs. Marjorie Viau, for all they have done. Certainly art is understood and appreciated at Beverly.

● A new Beverly club this year was the Key Club, formed under the Kiwanis Club and sponsored by Mr. John Marrow. This club is part of the Key Clubs International. The boys in this organization are chosen because of outstanding service, leadership, and scholarship and can be found doing various services for the school and community. Such a service was the rag drive. The proceeds from this event went to the March of Dimes. Key Clubbers were also seen at the Beverly Hills High School Invitational Basketball Tournament doing the highly appreciated task of guarding and being gatemen. Our Beverly club attended the conference at Merced for the Key Clubs in this district. Key Clubs may be found at almost any high school of importance.

THESPIANS

● The Thespians of Beverly Hills High School are part of the National Thespian Society. These people, who have excelled in some phase of drama, are honored by membership in the group. The organization, under first semester president, Eva Kay, and second semester president, John Erman, was led to the doors of the Pasadena Play-House, where it, along with Thespians from all over Southern California, presented plays to be judged by professionals in the drama world. The club had as its sponsor Mrs. Florence Quertermous, who expertly guided the group.

● The Music Makers really had some loud and classy noises coming out of room 190 this year when they had their noon meetings. The talented members of the club often played for each other with fine results. As explained by Presidents Tyler Gilman and Julius Grollman, the purpose of this club is to further the interest of music in the school. All those who take a music class here at Beverly are eligible to be considered for membership in this honorary musical club. At the end of the year, the trumpeteers put away their trumpets, and the vocalists rested their vocal chords at their annual banquet. The capable sponsor, Mrs. Leah Moore, was thanked by the members for her aid and effort. Beverly students heard these musicians and others in the Annual Spring Music Festival.

● With burning print the enthusiastic members of the Beverly Hills High School branch of the Quill and Scroll, a national honorary journalism organization, participated in many journalistic activities this year. The first semester, when Al Ryskind held the gavel, the club sponsored a creative writing contest which brought much response. Not to be outdone by the creative writing contest, Roger Natkin, second semester president, led the club in sponsoring the national photography contest. Loretta Isaacs held the office of vice-president both semesters, and Susie Doree and Mary Waldsmith were co-secretary-treasurer. A great asset to the club members was Mr. Don Davies, sponsor.

THIRTY CLUB

● As the typewriters clicked, the very advanced work done by the "30" Club showed up in many forms. Its greatest accomplishment of the year was the production of the "Gramalights," a newspaper that was distributed throughout the Beverly Hills grammar schools. "Gramalights" was off to the galleys and mimeographed every six weeks. Stan Marx kept the print moving in his capacity of editor.

John Barbe, president, displayed his skill by handling the gavel. Under John was Vice-president Gary Mordock and Treasurer Sue Olson. Mr. Don Davies sponsored the club, and with his friendly guidance he helped bring to it a successful year.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

The clicking of typewriter keys and the hum of various office instruments drew many students into the Commercial Club, where they had an opportunity to further their commercial interests. Among their many activities was a program sponsored by the Beverly Hills Women's Professional Club in which fifteen girls were sent to Beverly Hills stores to work as secretaries for a day. The whole club enjoyed speakers such as Mr. Magnin of the Stock Exchange, Mr. Ruggles of Ira Frisby Company, and Mr. Miehls from the department of Human Engineering of Woodbury College. The group also enjoyed a field trip to the telephone company and a travel itinerary.

With the cooperation of the Kiwanis Club the businessmen sponsored the Vocational Conference. The attention of the group was captured when a demonstration of an IBM typewriter was conducted. During the Christmas season, the members treated themselves to a festive party. In recognition of their ability, awards and pins were given to advanced typists.

Helping to give the members of the club a full year were Don Alschuler, president; Jackie Levy, vice-president; Marilyn Dunn, secretary; and Sharon Factor, treasurer. Mrs. Pauline Garnella and Mr. Dennie Peterson sponsored the club.

"Sponsors of international friendship!" The preceding is the motto of the International Statesmen, which was sponsored successfully by Mr. William C. Quandt. One of the events enjoyed by members of the club during the first semester was the exciting Christmas party. This was made possible by the expert cooperation of the members with Jerry Goldstein, first semester president. Sally Beckwith headed all of the committees in her capacity of vice-president; she was assisted by Diane Jenkins, who carefully recorded minutes of the meetings. Billy Compter kept the organization out of the red by expertly handling the money. Under the guidance of Bill, second semester president, the International Statesmen let all of Beverly's literary geniuses have a chance to compete in the Americanism Essay Contest. Winners were announced during the Americanism Assembly. Mr. Fred Spellicy and Miss Erna Schwerin were imported from within the walls of Beverly to speak of their respective travels abroad. Besides interesting interviews with foreign members of the club, the group enjoyed many movies. With the help of the second semester's officers Diane Jenkins, vice-president; Barbara Tuthill, secretary; and Joy Unitan, treasurer; the club had as a project the support of a family in Europe.

● Times have definitely changed since grandma was a girl! In grandma's teenage years she had quilting parties, but the lasses of today are zipping with pep—especially those in the Home Economics Club. The busy girls finished the year with many successful events behind them. Trips to Helms Bakery and Chinatown are among these; and the girls sold candied apples to support a French family. First semester officers, Marcia See, president; Diane Davis, vice-president; Joan Stanton, secretary; and Jane Elliott, treasurer; helped make the Home Ec's Initiation Tea an enjoyable event. Second semester officers who were installed at the tea were Diane Davis, president; Diane McDonald, vice-president; Sue Ecke, secretary; and Donna Wilson, treasurer. Mrs. Corinne Pyle sponsored the club.

● Fourteen energetic athletic managers composed the membership of the Managers Club. The boys presented the school with a clock for the athletic field, and they also sold cokes during the Beverly Hills Invitational Basketball Tournament. The jobs of president, vice-president, and secretary add up to the offices held by Bob Street, Walt Schuster, and Gary Glober, respectively. Gary also held the position of treasurer. Bob April, Al Berlin, Mike Cahill, Joel Lifter, Don Schliflke, Brad Schurz, Norman Spector, Peter Spencer, and Al White were the rest of the hardworking managers who worked for the betterment of their teams. The Managers Club enjoyed a successful year with the help and aid of its industrious sponsor, Coach John Marrow.

● Drayma or drahma—either way you pronounce it, it still remains the main thought of a group of students interested in theatrical work. The spring play, which was the Drama Club's largest accomplishment this year, was "Young Lincoln." The play was a biographical sketch of Abe Lincoln in his teens. Bill Holzman headed the cast with the title role with Tyler Gilman taking the part of Tom Lincoln. Aaron was portrayed by Stan Marx, and Mr. Breckenridge was played by Bill Compter. Others in the spring play were Stephenie Cary, Jeri Coates, Jeff Frey, Mike Glick, Elaine Meitus, Pat Patterson, Ronald Spector, and Val Wallad. Sandi Conant and Lynda Mitchell were first and second semester presidents of the club, respectively. Mrs. Florence Quertermous was the sponsor.

CLUB RELATIONS BOARD

● As Beverly gets older, it gets wiser. Its policies become better adapted to the needs of its students. The Club Relations Board is Beverly's newest adoption. Its program throughout the first semester was worked out by Chairman Evie Pattiz. Laurie Glass took Evie's place during the second semester and kept the Board running smoothly. Some of the many things accomplished by the Club Relations Board during the second semester were uniform club calendars and desk charts on the correct parliamentary behavior for every club. Another very important accomplishment was that it kept a record of every person in Beverly who was in a club and what he did in that club. Still another regulation set up by the Board was that nobody could be in more than three clubs (excluding honor clubs). The Board was composed of the vice-presidents of every club and was sponsored by Mrs. Romaine Pauley.

● Presiding over the many activities of Los Quijotes, first and second semesters respectively, were Bob Samuels and Bob Allen. Tony Nast held the gavel as vice-president both semesters with Judy Ash and Carol Harris writing the minutes; Sue Kauffman and Pat Patterson kept money matters functioning. During the annual Christmas party the Spanish Club sang Christmas carols in Spanish. Mr. John Padilla, sponsor, sat in on the meetings, which were all conducted in Spanish.

● Spanish and Mexican articles of all kinds adorned the showcase display set up by Los Buenos Vecinos this year. The month of April brought a Spanish speaker to their meeting, while the Padua Hills excursion was a treat for the members. The carnival booth that belonged to the club will not be forgotten soon nor will the movies which were shown during the meetings. Mrs. Elsie Fitch was sponsor, and Rita Seiler and Nina Marcus were first and second semester presidents, respectively.

● The idea of an exchange scrapbook was worked out in L'Esprit de France. The club sent a scrapbook of things done at Beverly to a school in France, and the French students sent one to Beverly in return. Among the other successes was the picnic at Ann Hahn's house and the carnival booth. The French Club also sent Care Packages to Europe as one of its main projects. Miss Lida Clementi, sponsor, helped the members of L'Esprit de France make an outstanding club.

● One of the many enjoyable events which was spotlighted during the meetings of Der Deutsche Verein was a movie which was taken in Germany by Miss Erna Schwerin and was shown and narrated for club members by her. Under the leadership of Fred Feingold, first semester president, the German Club donated funds to be spent for All Nations Foundation. Mr. James Knauer, sponsor, supervised the "gifts to orphanage" program with the help of Sanford Ragins, second semester president.

LOS ESPANOLITOS

Los Espanolitos, alias The Young Spaniards, participated in many interesting activities this year under the leadership of President (both semesters) Gary Mordock, who handled his gavel at these events with the know-how of an old hand.

With the invaluable aid of Mr. Victor M. Seine, sponsor, the club made its Christmas party a great success. The guests had Spanish food, and a large pinata filled with candy and gifts was hung from the ceiling of the home of the "simpatica" hostess, Carol Bollenbacher. Every member brought food which was given to a Mexican family that the club supports.

Richard Elzer, vice-president, helped keep Los Espanolitos above par with the assistance of Herbert Bloom, treasurer; both were first semester officers. They undertook their respective jobs with much enthusiasm, and they obtained many thrilling Spanish movies to show at the meetings.

With the help of Marshall Reznick, second semester vice-president, a trip to Padua Hills was accomplished successfully. Judy Grossman took care of all money matters very efficiently throughout the second semester, while Sue Diamond's minutes showed the names of the Spanish plays produced and enjoyed during the entire year.

Spirit of understanding towards Spanish-speaking countries and promotion of further interest in the Spanish language are the two main objects of the club. Membership is granted to any first year Spanish student who received either an "A" or "B" grade in the subject.

Spooks come out all over the world at Hallowe'en time; even the Latin Club celebrated the holiday when Latin 5 and 6 classes gave a play for entertainment. The S.P.Q.R. also came out with flying colors for its green and red party (Christmas party to you!). Each Latin class participated in the entertainment for one of the events. Mike Serlin, pontifex maximus (president), worked hard to put over the carnival booth which the senatus populusque romanus (club members) gloried in. The annual Roman Banquet was a great thrill, as each member paraded in true Latin custom with a toga. Leslie Vinnecour and Tom Freiberg were the aediles in charge of the banquet. To be mercenary, we have to remember Jim Simpson, who was the quaestor (treasurer) of the S.P.Q.R.

Consuls (veeps) Susan Long and Larry Tapper took charge of the meetings when Mike was absent. Praetors Lynne Goldman, Don Long, and Carol Mitchell planned all the programs of the meetings, which were written up in Jackie Levit's permanent scribe's book. Lictors, which means body guards, could more aptly be described as sergeants at arms. Stuart Buchalter, Ed Hoffman, and Donna Meyer filled this position. This extremely active club was sponsored by Miss Frances Griffin.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Just like the month of March, Beverly's Varsity grid team began the season like a lion and ended it like a lamb, winning two contests and dropping six. The main weakness may be ascribed to the lack of depth on the squad, since the Norman gridiron machine seemed to be at high speed during the first halves, only to run down in the later periods.

There was nothing wrong with the starting team, which saw four of its players gain Bay League selections. Topmost among the four horsemen was Mike Glick (Beverly's top all-around lineman), who made first-string guard on the basis of his outstanding work both offensively and defensively. Bill Epler (Blanket Award winner), made second-string halfback. Gary Gottlieb, tackle, and Junior Walt Dougher, end both made honorable mention.

Top card in Ace Club standings was Mike Glick, who along with Bill Epler, was co-captain of the team. Second was Center Paul Olson; third, Halfback Pete Bren; fourth, Epler; fifth, Dougher; sixth, Tackle Dick Hall; and seventh, Gottlieb.

Scrappy Guard Mike Glick won the 1951 American Legion Award for the school. Shifty Halfback Bill Epler was voted to receive the Blanket Award, which hangs in the coaches' office.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Coaches John Marrow and Chris Flanagan's Normans raised the curtain on the 1951 grid season with a 23 to 7 conquest of Saint Monica. Things also looked bright against Mira Costa for awhile, as Fullback John Kulberg returned the opening kick 88 yards for a score. Extra points proved fatal, however, as the Mustangs emerged victorious, 14-12. Duplicating Kulberg's feat, Halfback Pete Bren ran back Notre Dame's opening boot for 77 yards and a touchdown, as Beverly went on to win 27-13.

The Vikings' depth and the Normans' lack thereof were the main factors in the Vikings' 32-6 victory. Ken Sweraingen scored all Redondo's points as the Seahawks edged our boys 14 to 7. The following week against Leuzinger, we were within the Olympians' one-yard line twice, and once even crossed the goal line, only to be called back because of a penalty. It was a heartbreaking 6-0 loss. Powerful Inglewood took us 40-0, and Torrance escaped the cellar by winning 20-0.

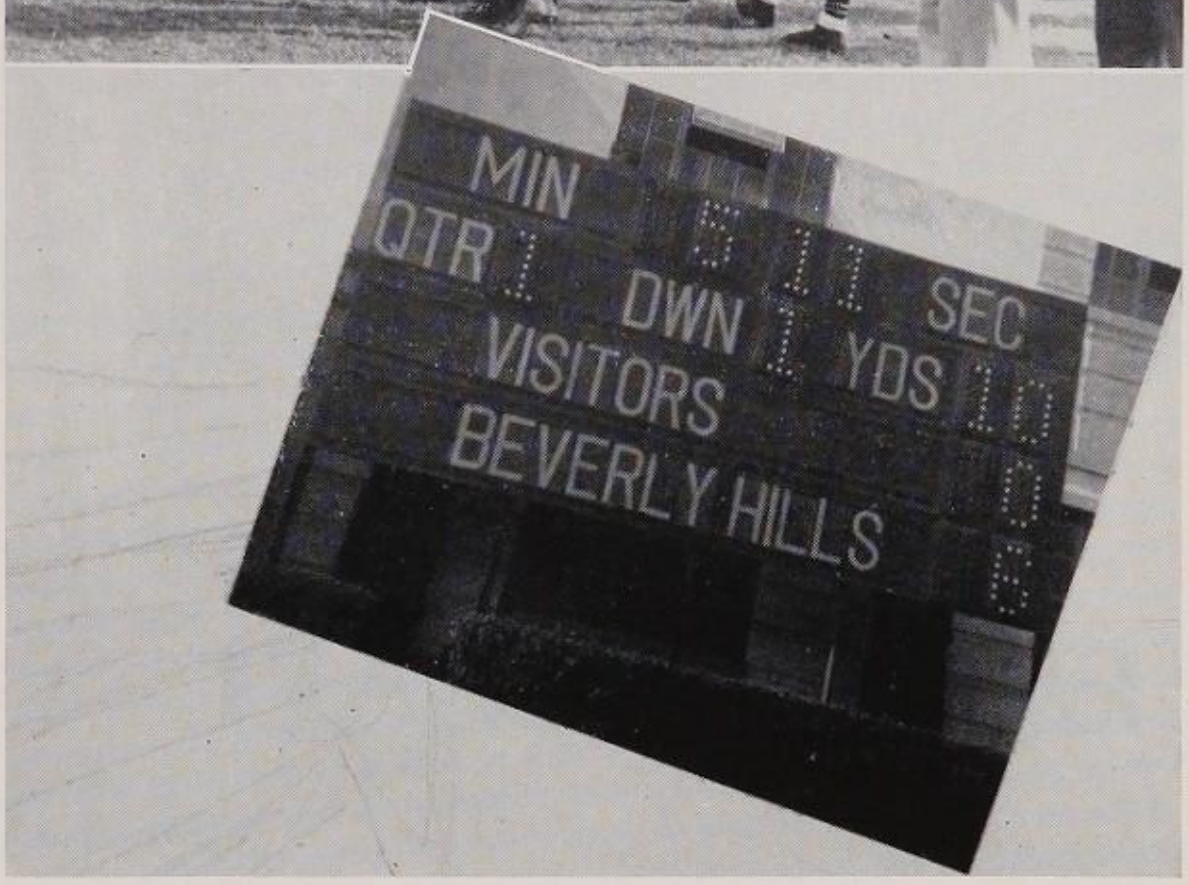
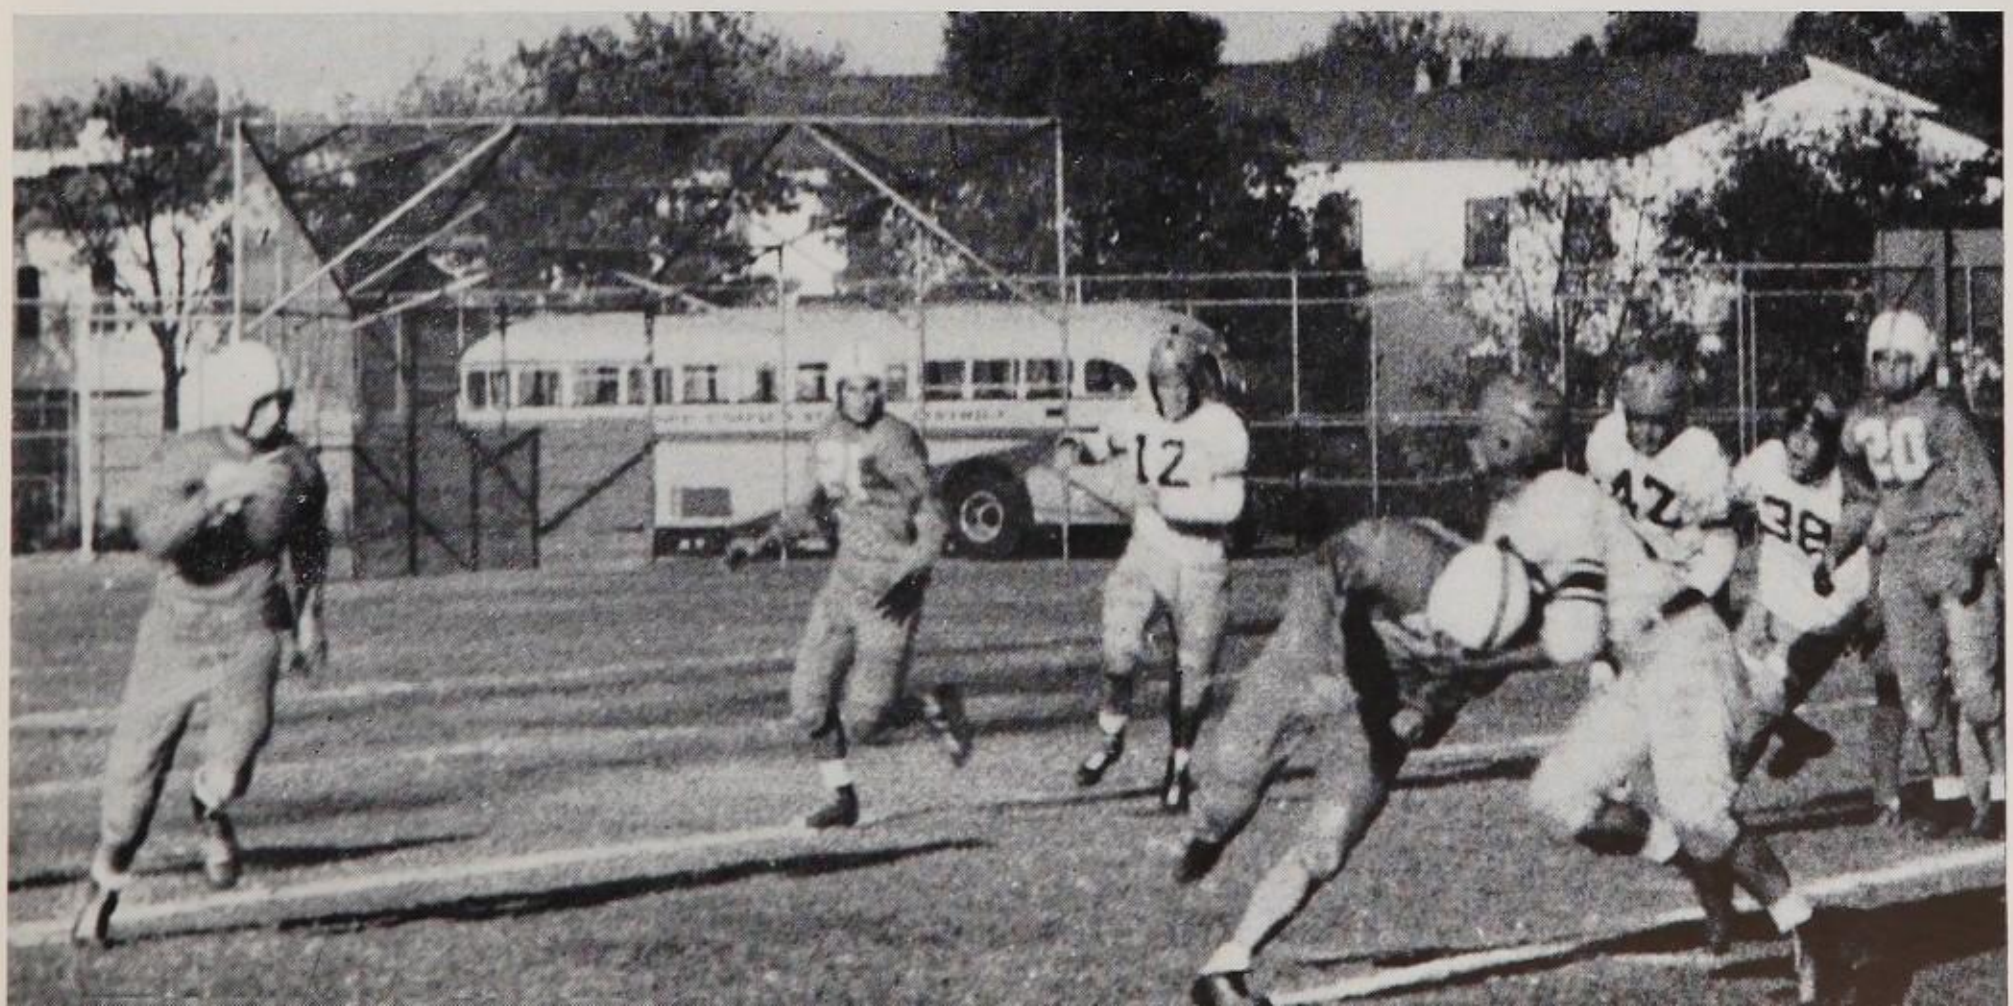
FOOTBALL REVIEW



G-o-o-o Normans—Must have been the inspirational yell that prompted the gridders to score the touchdown recorded above on the scoreboard.

The Norman back on the left was set to pass, but it looks as if that block, lower right, changed his mind, as he is toting the pigskin. Looking on are Lee Lewin, 21, and Bernie Liebowitz, 20.



Planning to "Smash Samo," or something like that, are Bee Co-captains Lee Lewin and Bernie Liebowitz and their genial coach, Hal Sieling.

Quite opposite from their heavier brothers, the Varsity, Beverly's Bees started the football season with a quiet fizz and ended with a rather loud bang, loud enough anyway to blast "Happy Hal" Sieling's boys into a third place finish behind Santa Monica with a clean slate and behind Redondo with a four-and-one record.

After the first practice game with Saint Monica was cancelled, the Babes opened with a tough Mira Costa eleven and lost 13-7. Fine play by Larry Gilbert, Quarterback Don Long, and Jerry Viner helped in a 13-6 conquest of Notre Dame. Against Samo in the league opener, the Bees saw their 19-7 lead turn into a 46-19 loss. The four touchdown margin prevailed again, as Redondo's Seahawks handed us a 32-7 setback.

Reversing the Redondo score, the Norbabes trampled Leuzinger 32-7. Two touchdowns each, by Liebowitz and Long, and one by Larry Gilbert provided the margin of victory. After "letting Leuzinger lose," the Babes "instilled inefficiency in Inglewood," thus causing a 25-20 defeat of the powerful Sentinels. It was Howard Hirsch, Liebowitz, and Long who assimilated Norman yards in a 20-6 triumph over Torrance.

Although they ended up with a encouraging season, the Beverly Hills contingent was outscored by its opponents, 111 to 103 in league play.

BEE FOOTBALL

Coach Sieling's Bees ended their season with a four-three record, which included an even split in two practice games and a three-two league slate, placing them in the first division. Longest runs of the season were Don Long's 63-yard jaunt against Leuzinger and a 66-yarder against Torrance, both of them going for touchdowns. Also eating yardage in the Torrance game was Halfback Bernie Liebowitz, who hauled the leather on a 55-yard touchdown run.

The team, co-captained by Liebowitz and Lee Lewin, was comprised mainly of sophomores and juniors. The few exceptions were Ned Eckert, Larry Gilbert, and Don Long, who as freshmen, distinguished themselves above and beyond the call of duty. Kurt Neumann was the only graduating player. Although such backs as Pete Arnold, Larry Edwards, and Liebowitz came through with fine jobs, the team still could have used Mel Chudacoff, out with an appendicitis operation.

Like the Varsity, the Bees used the T-formation. stationing the fullback just behind the line. With so many prospects returning next year, both Varsity and Bee chances seem favorable.

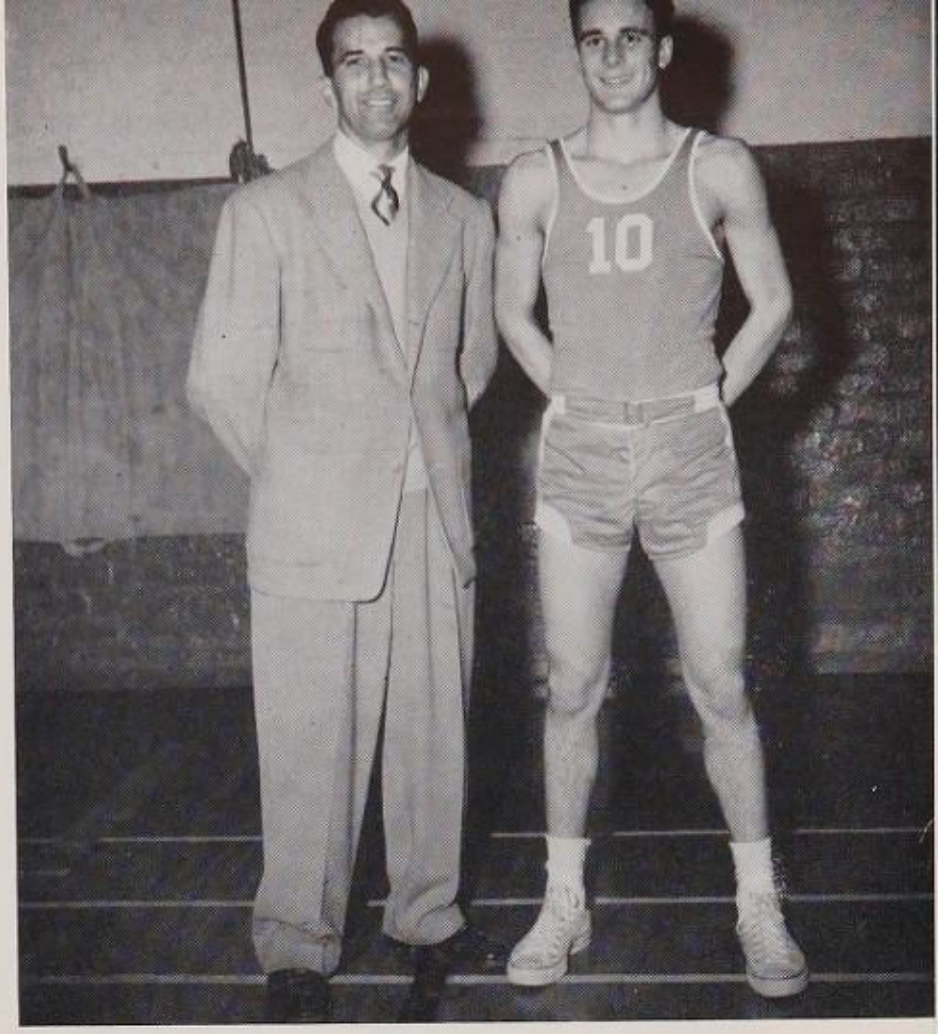
The heavyweight casaba crew had an up-and-down season, so far as final scores were concerned. Nevertheless, they have the memories of taking a couple of moral victories over San Diego and Redondo, who went on to win the San Diego Basketball Tournament and Bay League championship, respectively. After the Redondo thriller we seemed to fade, losing to Inglewood by five and thirteen points, and to Torrance by nine. All in all, we won three out of ten league contests for a .300 percentage and a fourth place in the Bay League.

Captain Jim Elbogen was the top scorer in the league, scoring 160 points for a 16.0 average. His 22 points against Leuzinger remained the single-game mark for the team. The top honor in his basketball career, however, came when it was announced that he tied for first-string forward on the All-Bay League team. Guard Don Zucker hit the honorable mention squad.

During their safari to San Diego, the Normans compiled a two-and-two record. Eiler and Elbogen put away eight points each and Zucker racked up six, as Chula Vista fell prey in the opener, 37-22. The aforesaid Mr. Elbogen again was top banana as he sank 14 in a 51-28 slaughter of Coronado. Zucker accounted for ten, Zumbrun for eight, and Eiler for six. The next day, after a few short hours sleep, they faced San Diego. The outcome looked bright as we led 11-8 at the quarter and 20-17 at the half. In the third quarter San Diego gained a point on us and we led 33-31, but the fourth quarter saw a 36-36 deadlock. In the overtime period field goals by Poppert and Angelo and a free throw by Beyrer outweighed Zucker's lone two-pointer, and we succumbed 40-38. One of the main factors in our defeat was inaccuracy at the foul line. San Diego Hoover tripped us up in the consolation game, 47-38. Other players doing good jobs for Beverly were Roger Natkin and Rowland Perkins, each of whom scored five points against Coronado, and Pierre Mornell, who played good defensive ball.

Although San Diego defeated us, it was consoling to know that the Cavemen went on to win the tourney, knocking over Samo in the final game.



Master and pupil are Coach Steve Miletich and Blanket Award Winner, Captain Jim Elbogen, league's leading scorer.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Norman hoopsters opened league play when they faced Santa Monica. Scoring only four points in the first quarter, they found it hard to catch up to the Vikings and lost 44-29. Big Center R. C. Owens led Samo with 18 points. Ron Zumbrun, Don Zucker, and Jim Elbogen were high-point men for Beverly. Facing a highly polished Redondo unit, the bucketeers fell to the Seahawks, 56-49. Elbogen led the Beverly scoring pack with 16, followed by Zucker with 13, and Zumbrun with eight. In our next encounter we found ourselves on the long end of a 46-37 score against Leuzinger, as Elbogen put in 18, Zucker 15, and Eiler nine.

Rising to the occasion, the inspired Normans gained new confidence as they downed a dark horse Torrance five by a 50-40 count. Helping to make these round figures were Elbogen with 15 points, Zucker with 14, and Zumbrun with 13. Ten players scored for the Tartars, but this was evidently not enough. Don Zucker scored 42 points from the guard spot in these last three games, a remarkable feat. In the return bill against Santa Monica the old Norman nemesis Owens proved a thorn in Beverly's side as the giant led the Vikings to a 62-34 triumph. High scores for the Norms were Zumbrun's 11, Elbogen's ten, and Zucker's six. We almost reversed the Samo score against Leuzinger's hapless team, pommeling the Olympians, 61-36. Elbogen shone with 22 points, followed by Zumbrun with 11, and Forward Roger Natkin with ten.

After leading 20-19 at the half, we were beaten by eventual Bay League titleholder Redondo, 39-38. Elbogen's 14 points and Natkin's and Zucker's seven apiece helped, but they were not enough to still the mighty Seahawk quintet. Inglewood took a pair from us, 43-38 and 61-48. Elbogen scored 40 points for the two affairs and Zucker put in 17. Unbelievable as it may seem, we led the Sentinels at halftime in the second game, 25-24. In the season finale against Torrance, a team we previously had beaten, we bid adieu to 1951-52 with a 59-50 loss to the Tartars. Playing their last game for Beverly were Jim Elbogen with 20 points, Roger Natkin with 10, Pierre Mornell with five, Joe Blatchford with one, and Dave Ager, Rowland Perkins, Paul Raboff, and Allan Ryskind. Returning Lettermen Ron Zumbrun and Don Zucker notched eight and six tallies respectively. Averages for the ten-game season were Elbogen, 16.0 (Bay League leader); Zucker 8.9; and Zumbrun, 6.7.

The team, as a whole, scored 443 points to their opponents' 477.

BEE BASKETBALL

The Norbabes, under the direction of Coach Steve Miletich, had themselves a four-one practice season, three-seven league slate, and three-one Santa Monica Bee Tournament record for a total standing of ten games won and nine lost. Three league losses were by two points, and two of these were games in which we led at halftime. Actually we were outscored in ten league games only 366 to 354.

In the Santa Monica Bee tourney we took second place to the hosts. Ron Zumbrun hit for 20 points as we opened with a 48-30 win over Pasadena. Zum was again high man with 19 as we knocked off Palos Verdes 43-31. After trailing 17-15 at halftime, we rallied to beat Long Beach Poly 31-30. Bill Marx was high man with eight points. In the finals Samo outclassed us 45-29, but we found consolation in the thought that Zumbrun, who scored 12 in the last game, made the All-Tourney team.

Sharpeyed Forward Ron Zumbrun's accurate placement of the leather sphere within the confines of the net established a new tournament scoring record.

BEE BASKETBALL

Beverly's Bees opened their practice season against a tough Burbank squad, losing 42-36. Forward Ronnie Zumbrun was high man for the losers with 22 points. Against the aggressive, but outclassed, Saint Monica and Mira Costa fives, the Norbabes recouped their loss to Burbank in winning 41-19 and 41-20 respectively. Zumbrun contributed eight in the Saint Monica fracas, establishing a 15.0 average in the two games he played, after which he was promoted to the Varsity ranks. Forwards Jon Rose and Ron Marson offered six points each in the Mariner debacle, as Rose's eight and Guards Lee Lewin's and Don Long's seven apiece were the major factors in the Infants' defeat. The loss of Zumbrun apparently didn't bother our boys, as they battered a Culver City quintet, 56-20. Marson's ten, Guard Jerry Steiner's nine, and Lewin's seven were our top scoring thrusts. Closing out the practice season on a happy note, the Bees topped Notre Dame 45-44, the margin of victory resting on Steiner's overtime charity toss. Lewin scored 15 points in the contest, and Steiner eight.

After leading Santa Monica 16-12 at halftime, we lost to the Vikings, 42-36. High scorer in a losing cause was Steiner with ten. Redondo's Seahawks found their prey as they swooped to a 38-36 decision. In their wake was a downhearted Norman team, high man of whom was Don Long, who notched 12 points. Lanky Guard Jerry Viner put in seven. The return engagement with Samo proved equally disastrous as the Vikelets emerged victorious, 35-27.

Leuzinger's Olympians were our first victims, as we conked them 32-24. Steiner was high man with nine; Long pushed in seven. The Bees continued their winning ways, roughing up Torrance, 46-26. Forward Jon Rose placed 13 points inside the rim; again Long was second, this time with nine. After leading 13-5 at halftime, the Beeballers bowed to Leuzinger, 31-29. Lending a touch of color were Forward Steve Platt and Guard Jerry Viner, who scored seven and six points respectively.

Again a halftime edge, 21-19, resulted in defeat as the Bees succumbed to Redondo, 42-40. Rose's and Viner's eight were not enough, evidently. Hardwood history repeated itself for the third successive time as the Norbabes, leading Inglewood 19-18 at halftime, were dropped 40-32. Only four men scored for the Sentinels. The following night we again fell to the Sents, this time 52-31. High man for the two-game series was Steiner, scoring nine in each game. Viner made 13 in the first. Paced by Bill Marx's twelve, Platt's ten, and Viner's nine, the Beeballers closed out their season with a 45-36 win over Torrance.

● Toting an eight-four season record, a three-two league record, and the knowledge that they beat league co-leader Redondo, the Cees saw their athletic efforts gain for them a second place in the Bay League. Redondo's partner in crime for the league's top spot was Inglewood. Sporting a five-two practice record, the Cees opened their league season against Santa Monica, dropping a 30-22 decision. Dick Wilk was high man for the locals with nine points. Lenny Wain's seven points represented our best individual effort as we outscored Redondo, 29-20. Leuzinger fell, 28-13, but Inglewood proved tough and won, 32-18. Wain scored 27 for both. Against Torrance we won, 22-21.

DEE BASKETBALL

● Not setting any records but managing to score the points when needed, Beverly's Dees saw nothing but glory on their tour around the Bay circuit this year. Coach Chris Flanagan's shorties were sparked by sharp-eyed Forwards Ned Eckert and Mike Beber, who together scored 116 of the team's 138 points. The Normidgets copped the casaba crown, winning all five league games.

Eckert and Beber scored all the team's points in a 16-15 win over Santa Monica and 17 points in a 20-17 closie over Redondo. Eckert scored 25 as the Dees trampled Leuzinger, 50-22. Inglewood fell, 26-14, as did Torrance, 26-24. Lettermen were Beber, Eckert, Ellis, Glasgow, Landau, and Silverman.

BEVERLY HILLS TOURNAMENT

Compton's rampaging Titans of the hardwood, who opened the Tenth Annual Beverly Hills Invitational Basketball Tournament with a record-breaking 110-36 win over Twenty-nine Palms, proved their mettle by defeating Long Beach Wilson 50-48. The Tarbabes were paced in their efforts by George Selleck, sparkplug guard, who was selected Most Valuable Player of the tourney, and Del Johnston and Woody Sauldsberry, who made second-string all-tourney. San Diego, after losing to Wilson in the semi-finals, 37-36, outscored Ventura, 52-41, to take third place.

The Normans were hot, outscoring Santa Ana, 35-32, in the opener. After playing well for three quarters, the hoopsters fell before tourney runner-up Wilson, 61-49. Center Jim Elbogen led Beverly scorers with 28 points in two games and made second-string all-tourney center. Lending a touch of color were Queen Margie Baumgartner and her attendants, who were crowned by lettermen escorts.

Trying to sink a bucket, guard Don Zucker, partially hidden by Santa Ana's King, Number 17, leaves the hardwood floor. Awaiting a possible rebound is Dick Eiler, Number five.

VARSITY TRACK

Taking nine firsts in a dual meet, Inglewood's cindermen led all the way in a 70-34 victory. Co-captain Mal Hughes led the 100 field with a 10.4 performance, nosing out teammate Dick Chamberlain, who came in third with 10.6. Chamberlain, however, turned the tables in the 220, finishing first in 23.2, while Hughes finished second, three-tenths of a second later. The relay team of Hoffman, Kulberg, Chamberlain, and Hughes took a first. Torrance's Tartars also came out in the win column, sporting a 62-42 final score. Firsts by Hughes in the 100, Chamberlain in the 160, Co-captain John Kulberg in the 440, Steve Messinger in the 880, and Gary Hoffman in both high and low hurdles, accounted for Norman five-pointers. Jim Elbogen represented the Beverly part of a tie in the high-jump with a mark of 5'6".

In a three-way meet Santa Monica tallied 63 9/10 points, Redondo made 42 9/10, and Beverly was low spot on the totem pole with 21 1/5. Nary a first did we tally, but Hughes shone with a 10.2 century, as did Chamberlain with a 22.6 furlong, Messinger with a 2:14.3 half-mile, and Kulberg with a 19'7" broadjump, all good for second places. The Vikings of Samo defeated host Beverly in a dual meet, 67-37. Hughes, as usual, finished in the money, taking firsts in the 100 with 10.2, the 220 with 22.2, and leading the four-man relay to a first.

Beverly's varsity wore its first laurels of victory as it crushed Leuzinger and Mira Costa in a three-way meet, 77 1/3 to 31 1/3 to 19 1/3 respectively.

Beverly's dual scores in the three-way meet against Leuzinger and Mira Costa as recorded by Coach Brown for the purpose of awarding letters, ran this way: Beverly 86, Mira Costa 16, and Beverly 74, Leuzinger 28. Led by Hughes, who garnered five-pointers in the 100 and 220, the Norms took nine firsts out of twelve events and tied for a tenth. Bruce Robinson led the mile pack with a 5:10.7 time, as did Hoffman in the high and low hurdles, Ted Landon in the pole vault, and the four-man relay team. Kulberg hit for 20'2" in the pole vault, and husky Shot Putter Gary Gottlieb tied for first with 45'9". Jim Elbogen took three second places, good for nine points.

The Normans stole the thunder from LACC's reserves by a 66-38 score. Firsts by Hughes and Chamberlain in the 220, Kulberg in the 440, Robinson in the mile, Hoffman in the high and low hurdles, Landon in the pole vault, Gottlieb in the shot put, and Rowland Perkins' tie in the high-jump and the relay team contributed largely to Beverly's success.

In the annual Inglewood Relays, held April 17 and 18, the varsity took a fourth. Inglewood's Sentinels, taking four firsts in nine events, beat out Santa Monica for first, 39-36. Redondo was third with 26 points, Beverly fourth with 18, and Leuzinger fifth with 9. Our best event was the 880, in which we finished a close second to Redondo. The Seahawks' time was 1:32.7; ours was 1:34.2. The scoring was determined on a 5-4-3-2-1 basis; the winners, therefore, were ascertained by adding up the times or distances of all their entrants. Here is how the Norman scoring went: 480 low hurdle—fourth, 4-man 440—fifth, 4-man mile—no entry, 4-man two mile—fourth, 4-man 880—second, pole vault—no entry, high jump—third, broad jump—third, and shot put—third.

BEE TRACK

● Paced by Ben Hexter's 10.6 100 and Mort Lattman's 15.1 time in the low hurdles, Beverly's Bees knocked off Inglewood, 48-43. Following the Sents to defeat was Torrance, who was outscored 50-45. Although the two-way score against Redondo gave Beverly an edge, the Seahawks had one more point than we did in the three-way meet score, finishing a distant second to powerful Santa Monica. A week later, the Vikes came here and ran up a 60-35 score. The Norbabes ended up second to Leuzinger in a three-way meet, 61 1/3 to 36, Mira Costa finishing third with 20 2/3points.

● The Cees were successful in their opener, taking a 42 1/6-34 5/6 dual match from Inglewood. They were good enough to take six out of nine firsts. Taking only three firsts, the Normans fell to Torrance's Tartars, 46 1/3 to 30 2/3. Firsts by Stan King gave the Normans five as they finished second to Santa Monica in a three-way meet, beating out Redondo. In the dual meet Santa Monica again proved superior, winning 49-28. Leuzinger scored 54, Beverly 35, and Mira Costa 8 in a three-way meet at Herreid Field.

BASEBALL

The varsity diamond cutters opened their practice season with a 4-0 defeat of a somewhat inept Oxnard crew. Capitalizing on hits by Pete Arnold, Fred Caso, Bob Jones, and a two-bagger by Don Zucker, the Norm mauraders, behind the three-hit pitching of Arden Brame, outscored Loyola, 4-3. Norm Russell was the losing pitcher as Culter's nine took a 5-2 decision. Caso and Shortstop Travis Reed rapped out safeties.

Brame permitted three hits in a 4-3 triumph over Chadwick. Scoring all of their runs in different innings, the locals made six hits, two of them coming off Zucker's bat. Bill Epler and Jones hit triples. A double and homer by Zucker and another triple by Epler spelled diamond gloom for Mira Costa as Hoyt held the M.C.'s to four hits, beating them 4-2.

Giving up three hits, Stu Hoyt found himself credited with a 4-1 win over Morningside. He batted in Travis Reed on a fielder's choice after the latter had tripled. A pair of safeties by Arnold and one each by Brame and Ted Robinson provided fuel for the Norman offensive fire as Brame rang up an 8-6 victory over a walk-happy Saint Monica hurler. Although he did not collect any hits, Bob Jones batted in three runs off a walk, sacrifice, and fielder's choice. Hoyt and Russell saw pitching action, the latter striking out five men. After four hitless innings, the Norms exploded for four hits and five runs in the fifth frame against Hollywood. Arnold made two hits in the contest, Reed one and a double, and Caso and Epler one apiece. Winning pitcher Norm Russell gave up four hits, winning 5-3. Coach Hal Sieling's boys ended their practice season with a 7-1 record.

Sparked by our oceanside acquaintances—Ronnie Knox, Millard Paxton, and Gume Baiz—Santa Monica helped make our curtain-raiser a tragedy in seven acts. Knox, the traveling salesman of the Bay circuit, rapped out two doubles and a triple to lead the Vikings to a 10-2 win over Hoyt and company. Although they made only nine hits, Redondo took advantage of seven Norman errors to trip us up 9-1. Stu Hoyt was the losing pitcher. First baseman Fred Caso scored in the first inning after tripling and being advanced on Edward's single.

Leuzinger handed the Normans their third straight league setback as the Olympians dropped us, 5-1. Losing pitcher, Arden Brame, was received by Mike Forrest, husky catching prospect. Inglewood took Norm Russell and Stu Hoyt for a sleigh ride as it gave us our first shutout, 8-0. The statistics showed that Pitcher Burlingame did not allow any hits for the seven innings.

Sixteen players saw action in the mid-season practice tilt with Saint Monica. Coach Sieling engineered his boys to a 7-5 victory. Scoring four runs in the fifth inning, the varsity knocked Torrance 4-1. Jones, Don Long, and Caso helped ease Brame's six-hitter. Scoring two runs in the last half of the eighth, the Norms edged Redondo, 8-7, in a badly fielded but exciting ball game. Lee Lewin was credited with the win.

VARSITY SWIMMING

Beverly's opening swim meet against a tough Harvard crew resulted in a 51-23 decision for Harvard. The only first taken by the host was in the diving in which little Mike Copeland outpointed all other entrants. Los Angeles High's tankmen became the first varsity victims, falling 48-26. Captain Phil Gay churned his way to a 25.7 first in the 50-yard free. Tony Nesburn took a 1:15 first in the 100-yard breast. Barry Zaslove, Dick Langendorf, and Copeland also took firsts. Firsts by Copeland, Langendorf, the medley, and two by Gay helped provide a 48-26 victory.

Gay again scored two firsts in the 50 and 100-yard free styles, as the Norms edged Hollywood, 28-36 Dick Langendorf took the 100-yard back in 1:11.8. Kenny Baker wore the victor's crown in the 200-yard free, swimming the event in 2:18.1. Copeland won the diving. Against the mighty Whittier Cardinals, the Norman varsity found themselves helpless, falling into the swirling eddies formed by the wake of the Cardinal mermen. Phil Gay managed to tie for first place in the 50-yard free, but finished second in the diving. Nesburn took a first in the 100-yard breast as did Langendorf in the 100-yard back and Copeland in the diving. The final score was 52-24.

The Normen rebounded from the ropes to floor Loyola, 59-13. The only first taken by the Cubs was in the 100-yard free style. Nesburn led the 100-yard breast stroke entrants with a time of 1:17.2. Other firsts were by Gay, Langendorf (2), and Bailey. The Vikings of Santa Monica were completely outclassed, falling to the Normans' might, 59-5. The only places they managed to take were one second and two thirds. The winners' times were as follows: A medley, 1:35.4; 50-yard free—Gay, 25.8; 100-yard breast —Nesburn, 1:17.3; 200-yard free—Bob Moss, 2.23.6; 100-yard back—Langendorf, 1:12.9. 100-yard free—Gay, 57.3; diving—Bailey; individual medley—Langendorf, 2:01.4; and relay—Dick Hall, Barry Zaslove, Don Crowell, and Laurie Glass, 1:56.7.

The Norms overpowered Washington's tankmen 53-22. Leading the way were Hall in the 50-yard free, Nesburn in the 100-yard breast, Zaslove in the 200-yard free, Langendorf in the 100-yard back, Mike Serlin in the 100-yard free, and both the medley and relay teams. Don Crowell took a second in the 200-yard free.

BOTTOM ROW: M. Copeland, K. Baker, T. Nesburn, P. Gay, T. Brand, Coach Marrow. TOP ROW: D. Langendorf, D. Hall, D. Crowell, M. Serlin, B. Zaslove, D. Dodge.

El Segundo administered a hard licking to the Norms, performing aquatic capers in a 58-16 win. David Dodge was the only man to finish first for Beverly, beating out Copeland in the diving. Tony Nesburn finished second in the 100-yard breast, as did Langendorf in the 100-yard back. Hall and Zaslove took thirds in the 50 and 100-yard frees, respectively. Not showing the speed they possessed earlier in the season, the medley fell before Inglewood. Captain Phil Gay performed as usual, taking a first in the 50-yard free, with a time of 25.1 and in the 100-yard free with 57.2. Howie Hirsch was first in the 200-yard free, taking it in a time of 2:21.3. Mike Copeland outpointed the larger Sentinel diving opponents. Seven points for a first in the relay helped give the Norms a 43-32 victory. Hosting Leuzinger and Santa Monica in a three-way meet, the Norms ran away with scoring honors. The final was Beverly 52, Leuzinger 28, and Santa Monica 3. Firsts were scored by Gay in the 50-yard free, Nesburn in the 100-yard breast, Hirsch in the 200-yard free, Wain in the 100-yard back, Gay in the 100-yard free, Copeland in the diving, and the relay team of Hall, Glass, and Wain.

At press time, here are the best varsity times of the season, as compared to the school records.

BEE SWIMMING

● After outscoring Harvard, 44-17, Coach Marrow's middleweight tankmen dealt L. A. High a 44-30 defeat. Taking seven firsts, the Normans routed Hollywood, 47-19. Like the Cees, the Bees suffered their first defeat at the hands of mighty Whittier, who won 49-18. Taking but two firsts, the Norms couldn't seem to outstroke the Cardinals. Beverly retaliated, however, plastering Loyola, 48-4. Revenge against a school who has defeated us in other sports was gained in a 58-7 win over Samo. The highest score of the season was attained against Washington, 68-7. After squeezing past El Segundo, 33-31, and Inglewood, 34-31, we beat Santa Monica and Leuzinger in a three-way meet.

● Beverly's Cees walloped the Harvard Tankers 34.5 in the opener, taking a first in every event. Kirschner swam the 50-yard free in 28.0, one of the best Cee times of the season. Against Los Angeles High, the Cees scored a 25½-13½ victory. Hollywood fell 36-3, taking but three third places.

Whittier was the first team to turn the tables, winning 28-11. Loyola succumbed 35-4, taking only one second place and one third. After crushing Bay League rival Santa Monica, 29-10, the Normans glided to 36-3 and 32-6 wins over Washington and El Segundo respectively, barely nosing out Inglewood, 21-18. In a three-way meet the Norms beat Samo and Leuzinger, 20½ to 19½ to 8.

TENNIS

At this writing, it looked as if the Norman net-nudgers would have the inside track on the CIF crown. Consistently fine play by Captain Joe Blatchford, John Lesch, and Mike Franks led the team to wins over Torrance, Inglewood, Redondo, Mira Costa, Santa Monica, Los Angeles, Hollywood, and University High. Blatchford, Stan Silverman, and Tony Landau are the only lettermen who are graduating. Returning monogram wearers include Roger Behrstock, Dick Cohen, Ed Covey, Mike Franks, Tommy Freiberg, John Lesch, Al Prager, and Norm Siegel.

The Normans went a-courtin' and registered shutouts against Mira Costa, Los Angeles, Inglewood, Redondo, and Torrance. Lesch defeated Tom Kirsch of Fairfax, 6-2, 6-3, and the doubles team of Landau and Cohen combined to trip up their opponents, 6-2, 6-1, as we took an 8-1 victory. Lesch, Franks, and Freiberg worked up a little sweat but managed to win in a 7-2 victory over Hollywood. The doubles teams of Covey and Cohen and Landau and Behrstock also outgunned their adversaries from Highland Avenue. Bill Roberti of Uni Hi defeated Lesch, 6-4, but wins by Franks, Freiberg, and Prager in the singles and Covey-Cohen and Landau-Behrstock in the doubles gave the Norms a 7-2 victory. The closest Beverly win came against perennially tough Santa Monica. Bob Richmond gave Franks a tough time in the number two singles match; Mike took a 6-8, 6-3, 7-5 win after being held at point match four times. The final score was 5-4. Blatchford went to Ojai for the tennis tournament, along with Franks, Freiberg, Covey, Behrstock, and Seigel.

J. V. BASEBALL

● Behind Jay Friedman's pitching and baserunning ability, the varsity farm team defeated Mira Costa, 9-6. A double by Tommy Landau was the only extra base hit. Santa Monica won 4-3 in a four inning game, scoring four runs in the last inning of the short contest. In a five-inning affair Los Angeles High defeated us 10-4. The next match, against Redondo, resulted in a 9-8 Beverly win. Taking advantage of a seven-run first inning blast, Inglewood's Sentinels took a 13-5 decision. Starting Pitcher Friedman was somewhat wild, walking the first three men to face him. The Jayvees exhibited excellent offensive and defensive form, as Alan Schwartz racked up a four-hit, 10-5 victory.

● Both the Varsity and Jayvee wrestling teams were alike in one respect—both, to be truthful, had mediocre seasons. Although they both had moments of glory against Mira Costa and Morningside, the rest of the season was shrouded in the deep, dark cloud of defeat. Coach Gale Stockdale's boys had a good semester-long workout, however, practicing the art of self-defense. Varsity lettermen included Richard Kaiser, Dave Miller, Dick Langendorf, Dave Leeson, Roger Edelson, Jim Robbins, Barry Gross, and Alan White, manager. Jayvees winning monograms were John Buskey, Ted Farkas, Alan Harrow, John Cham- 21-18. In a three-way meet the Norms beat Samo and Leuzinger, 20½ to 19½ to 8.

CROSS COUNTRY

BOTTOM ROW: B. Yates, B. Allen, J. Simpson, B. Robinson, D. Appel. TOP ROW: M. Hughes, manager; M. Augenblick, S. Solomon, H. Scott, S. Messinger, M. Lebe, Coach Brown.

● Like the courageous Moses leading his band of oppressed wanderers across the waters of the Red Sea, Coach Charles Brown attempted to lead his cinder pounders to a Bay League victory. All was in vain, however, as our harriers went down to defeat at the hands of all comers. Lettermen were Sophomore Jim Simpson, Juniors Robert Allen and Bruce Robinson, and Senior Howard Scott.

● Coach Miletich's golf team finished its season with a 10-1 record, good enough for a tie with Leuzinger for Bay League laurels. After defeating Hamilton, the Teemen proceeded to take every league match except that with the Olympians, whom they had beaten earlier in the season. All in all, the boys played a home-and-home series with every league school. Top man of the team was Sherwyn Turbow, who golfed consistently well throughout the season. Others who gained letters, listed in order of their ability, were Jim Meriwether, Phil Burton, Bruce Perlmuth, and Dick Arkin. Turbow, Perlmuth, and Arkin will be returning next year.

GAA BOARD

● "Corral Capers" was the first project sponsored by Kathy Schumacher and her GAA cabinet. The annual dance was presented in the swim gym with authentic western settings. Something new this year was the fall banquet given by the GAA at which letters were awarded to Beverly's football and cross country teams. Kathy's cabinet included Mary Tobin, Betty Belger, and Barbara Holt. The second semester cabinet, under the direction of Barbara Holt, played host to the Beverly Hills grammar schools at a play day. Elise Peschelt, vice-president, offered her home for the GAA awards banquet. The boys who earned spring sports letters were honored at the Spring Sports Banquet. Other second semester officers were Jackie Melvin and Mary Tobin.

Miss Janet Patey, gym instructor, sponsored the work of the GAA this year. Special thanks go to her for work and advice.

● Adding a great deal to Norman spirit during the football season was this year's seventy-girl drill team. Waving orange and white pom-pons, the group, led by peppy Marcia Sebel, performed at all Varsity games and made a colorful sight in their new blue jumpers. Flag girls marching with the drill team were Barbara Butcher, Liana Colquitt, Barbara Goldstone, Elise Peschelt, Connie Schuster, Rusty Silverstein, and Barbara Tuthill. Assistants were Diane Koenig and Donna MacDonald. Thanks go to Mrs. Marillyn Bow, faculty sponsor, Elise Peschelt, manager, and the drill team for its fine spirit.

● A downstairs room filled with twisting, whirling, black-clad figures was often referred to as "Snake Pit." This was the new dance studio, the pride of the Terpsichoreans, the modern dance group of GAA. The graceful group met in the remodeled canteen every fifth period to originate and perform dance patterns. In May a program was presented for the GAA by these dancing damsels. Coaching the girls on dance techniques was Mrs. Jeanne Edwards. Sue Kauffman managed the group.

SWIMMING

● Stroking its way to first place in a Bay League swim meet was this year's girls' swimming team which was under the management of Joyce Hartfield. The group hosted five Bay League schools which performed in form, relay, and racing events. In the latter Beverly's mermaids excelled. The Armistice Day assembly will long be remembered for the colorful and well executed swimming routines of the team. The fifty girls were sponsored by Mrs. Jeanne Edwards. Assistant manager was Elise Peschelt.

● Highlighting the first quarter in the GAA was the "Color Play Day" at which Beverly hosted four Bay League schools—Inglewood, Leuzinger, Santa Monica, and Torrance. There were twenty-two volleyball teams with each one made up of girls from the five schools. This was the first Bay League play day of its type. Friendliness and sportsmanship reigned throughout the afternoon. Volleyball activities were directed by Sarah Buffinger and were under the faculty sponsorship of Miss Janet Patey and Mrs. Marjorie Sturges.

BOTTOM ROW: Lynn Visser, Janet Stoll, Joanne Livermore, Rhoda Rachelson, Bernice Friedland, Vicky Bodle, Sue Diamond, Pauline Porter. ● Five schools were defeated by this year's group of tennis court cuties; however, the girls fell prey to Santa Monica's strong and experienced team. The group will be remembered not only for its excellent work on the courts, but also for outside activities, such as the tennis assembly the team sponsored, which featured Alice Marble and Gussie Moran. The girls also edited an illustrated booklet entitled "Tennis for Girls—Simplified." The eleven girls were managed by Selma Margaretten and coached by Mrs. Marjorie Sturges.

● Four GAA basketball teams represented Beverly with good performances in the Santa Monica basketball playday this year. The teams, managed by Senior Sally Beckwith, also had a small tourney themselves, and the two losing teams gave a party for the two winning ones. Jackie Boyce's frosh team and Vicki Bodle's sophomore group hosted Elise Peschelt's and Sally Beckwith's skilled upper grade teams at the affair. Members of the team also officiated at the grammar school color play day. Mrs. Marillyn Bow sponsored the forty girls.

● Practicing twice a week after school, the hockey team's work paid dividends in the playday at Leuzinger. Joanne Livermore's lower division team won one game and tied one. This was exceptionally good for these girls who were new at the game of hockey. The upper division team, captained by Sally Beckwith, had one win and one loss to its record. The forty girls were under the management of Sue Albaum. Miss Janet Patey and Mrs. Marjorie Sturges were faculty sponsors of the group.

● "Batter up" could be heard every Tuesday and Thursday after school on the girls' athletic field as the GAA softball team practiced for the playday, which was held on May 22. The team was bolstered by a number of enthusiastic freshmen, who showed a great deal of skill and are promising for the success of future GAA teams. Arline Verity, all-around athlete, managed the girls. Mrs. Marillyn Bow and Mrs. Jeanne Edwards coached the group.
